

NEW OFFICIALS TAKE OFFICE

Five New County Officials Take Offices Monday

Ceremonies Take Place In Court Room—Deputies Are Also Sworn In

CONSTABLES ARE ALSO INDUCTED

Five county officials were inducted, deputies were sworn and the oath administered to a number of constables Monday morning January 1, 1950 in court room number one of the Lawrence County court house.

The five county officers were Sheriff Frank L. Coen, Register and Recorder Edward McNahy, District Attorney Sherman K. Levine and Jury Commissioners John Schneitzinger and Tad E. Shields.

Deputies Sworn
Attorney John S. Powers was sworn as assistant district attorney after his appointment had been approved by the court. Howard E. Klebe was sworn as county detective, and the following deputies took the oath.

Jail Matron Eleanor E. Coen, Deputy Sheriff Allan W. Thomas, Thomas F. O'Brien, Harold E. Lashaw, W. Francis McCracken and Miss Blanche E. Davy.

Register and Recorder Principal Deputy Miss Florence Thompson and Deputy Harry A. Bryan.

The appointment of Miss Susan Jacobs was announced by District Attorney Sherman K. Levine as his secretary but no oath was necessary.

Court Opened
At nine o'clock Judges W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree ascended the bench and Court Crier Clifford M. Vance opened court. Judge Braham announced the time for the induction of officers had arrived and Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar proceeded to the administration of the oaths.

Following the swearing of the county officers and deputies the following constables were sworn.

W. R. Waddington, Shenango township; Andrew Fair, first ward, New Castle; Theodore R. Altman, Neshannock township; Frank C. McKim, Ellwood City; R. B. Morrow, fourth ward, New Castle.

Five babies were born on New Year's Day at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

While Christmas trees are still standing in some homes of this area, a large number of them have been removed. Usually New Year's Day marks the time when the trees are taken down.

Holiday lighting period at the homes has been concluded. New Year's Day marked the end of most of the displays around the city.

It has been a long time since such a warm period has been experienced locally for the New Year's holiday period. Temperatures were around forty and fifty over the three day period. Some rain fell during the warm weather also.

State Highway Department at Harrisburg is moving right ahead with plans for the construction and relocation of Route 422, east of the city. Elsewhere in today's News will be found advertisements asking for bids.

County Board Decides On Numerous Salaries

Something less than harmony marked the meeting of the Lawrence county salary board which organized Monday morning January 1.

County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers declared himself against the appointment of an assistant district attorney and also against the payment of a higher salary to the county detective than some of the elected officers of the county get. He also opposed paying Miss Susan Jacobs, secretary to the district attorney $150 per month.

County Controller Andrew M. Dadds was against paying Deputy Sheriff Blanche E. Davy the salary the job has been paying heretofore, $190 per month.

Salaries Passed

After some heated passages at arms, the salary of Assistant District Attorney John S. Powers was set at $2,200, the salary of County Detective Howard E. Klebe at $3,840 per year. Attorney Walter A. Kieler was named solicitor to the sheriff at a salary of $600 per year.

The board first organized with County Commissioners Harvey B. Bush, Joseph W. Gilmore and (Continued on Page Sixteen)

Most Of Miners Return To Work

"Surprise Strike" Reports Persist As Some Illinois Miners Go Home

By PHILLIPS J. PECK (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—Most of John L. Lewis' soft coal miners returned to work today but "surprise strike" reports persisted when Illinois miners appeared at the pits then went home on orders from union officials.

The Illinois stoppage in the Springfield and Taylorville areas went unexplained by United Mine Workers officers on the scene. Lewis, at a Springfield (Ill.) hotel, refused to see reporters.

In other coal regions, miners reported ready to work out the balance of the three-day week.

Mines in Operation

Western Pennsylvania mines were in operation following the new year holiday and first reports from West Virginia indicated that the men were at work there.

UMW officials in the Colorado and Rocky Mountain area said all miners are working and denied that a strike is imminent. Industry spokesmen said they would have to have reports on morning shifts throughout the country before they could determine whether Lewis has declared another big walkout.

Two Killed, Two Wounded, Result Of Fugitives Hunt

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Arkansas state police and possemen surrounded woods near Little Rock today seeking an escaped convict—one of three still at large after a four-man break Saturday from the Tucker prison farm.

Two men have been killed and two wounded as Arkansas police staged the greatest manhunt in the state's history in efforts to recapture the convicts.

One of the convicts, Otis Eaton, 25, of Stillwell, Okla., was seized yesterday by the heavily-armed posse.

The others are believed to be hiding in wooded cover on the outskirts of Little Rock.

Congress Meets In Remodeled Quarters Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—If the nation's legislators can't hear each other today when Congress reconvenes it certainly won't be any fault of the capitol architects.

In the months since the first session of the 81st Congress called it quits, the Senate and House chambers have undergone extensive overhauling.

When the legislators meet at noon, it will be in remodeled chambers under indirect lighting and amid improved acoustics.

Gold brocade adorns the upper walls of the Senate, changed for the first time since 1859.

Blue brocade distinguished the House chamber, remodeled for the first time since it was finished in 1857.

Capitol architect David Lynn already has made an unofficial test of the acoustics in both chambers and has pronounced them "greatly improved."

Street Commissioner May Be Appointed

"Do you contemplate any change in personnel in your department?" city director of streets and public improvements E. Eugene Schweinsberg was asked today.

"I am getting my feet on the ground and making a study of the department," Mr. Schweinsberg replied.

"The city has had no commissioner of streets. Is it possible that you may make a recommendation one be appointed?" he was asked.

"I may," Mr. Schweinsberg replied.

The streets director said that within a few hours after he was sworn into office, his telephone bell started to jingle, and requests for sewer and street service were made.

Mr. Schweinsberg has jurisdiction over streets, sewers, engineers and the motor repair garage.

ROBERT RINGLING DIES

SARASOTA, Fla., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Robert Edward Ringling, 52-year-old chairman of the board of Ringling Brothers, Barnum and Bailey circus, died last night of a heart attack at his Sarasota home.

Holiday Period Fatalities May Reach 350 Total

(By International News Service)

Violent deaths throughout the nation over the long New Year's weekend reached close to the 350 mark today, with Texas far in the lead in the grim toll.

The Lone Star state reported 58 deaths—30 as a result of traffic accidents, nine due to fires and 19 from miscellaneous causes.

California listed 29 deaths and New York was close behind with 28.

A total of 230 perished in traffic accidents across the country up to midnight last night. Fires accounted for 40 other deaths and (Continued on Page Two)

John Maragon Is Indicted By Federal Jury

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A federal grand jury today indicted John Maragon, one-time White House intimate, on four charges of lying to senate investigators in the "Five Percent" probe.

The indictment, which was handed over to Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff, carries a possible penalty of eight to 40 years in prison—two to 10 years on each of the four counts.

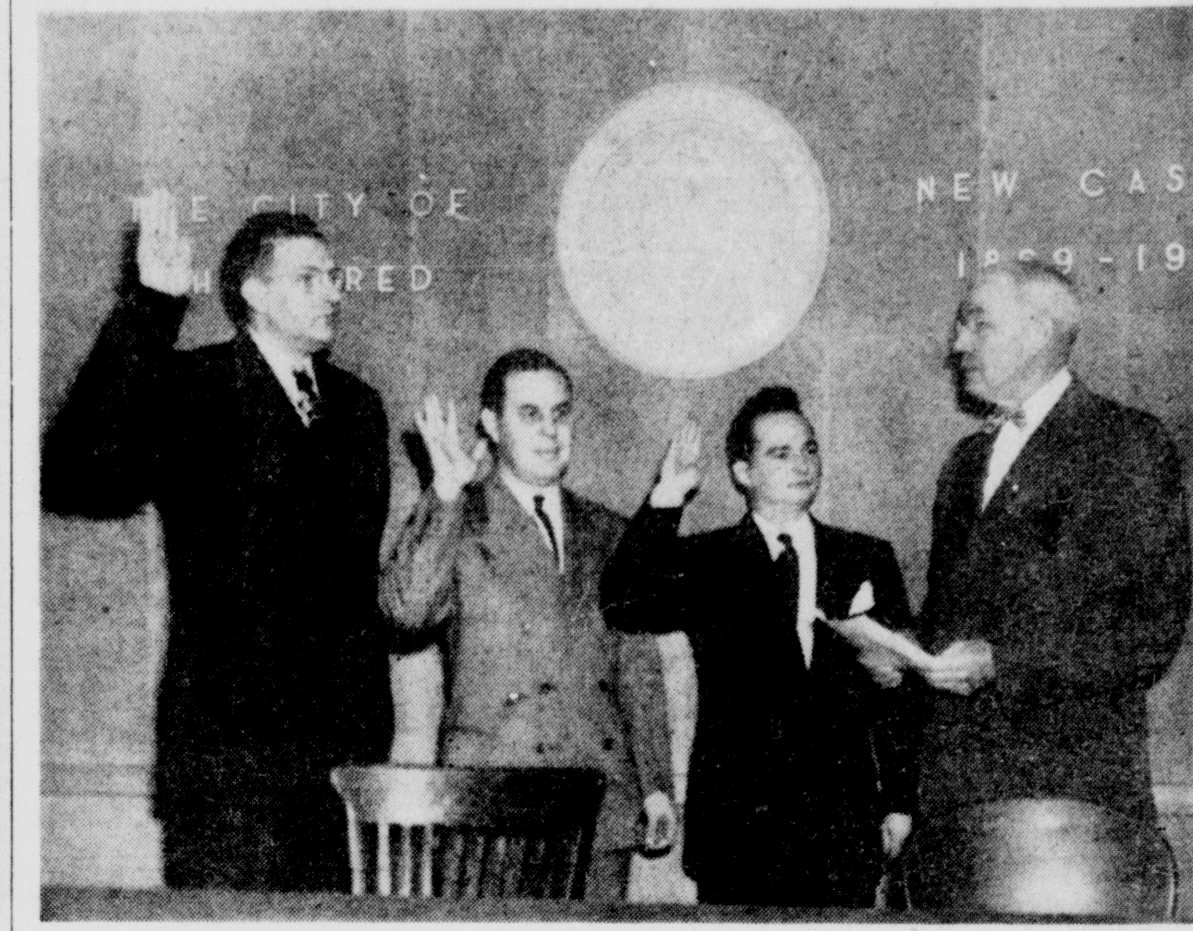

It resulted from the grand jury's investigation of testimony given by Maragon at a closed session of the senate investigating subcommittee last July, which allegedly conflicted with testimony given by other witnesses.

Congress To Get Three Messages From President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—President Truman meets with the congressional "big four" today to acquaint them with the three major speeches he will deliver to congress in the next few days on administration policies.

It will be the first time that the chief executive has met with Democratic leaders on Capitol Hill since the first session recessed two and a half months ago.

Mr. Truman will meet with the leaders of senate and house in his White House office.

The time of delivery of the three major messages already has been set. The president did this by consulting the leaders by telephone at their homes in Texas. (Continued on Page Two)

New York Water Crisis Continues

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Light rain falling in New York City's watershed area furnished today the only bright note in the city's water crisis.

Other major developments in the water shortage were:

Water saving during the New Year holidays, with industry practically at a standstill, was pronounced "discouraging."

The city prepared emergency plans to force water conservation in industries using large amounts of water.

The town of Poughkeepsie prepared to fight New York's plan for tapping the Hudson river to augment its water supplies.

Auto Injuries Fatal To Man

HARRY POLDING, of West State Street, Expires On New Years Eve

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Harry Polding, aged 61 years, of 1322 West State street, who was badly injured when struck by an automobile on Route 224, near the intersection of Miller avenue, on Thursday evening, expired of his injuries in the Jameson Memorial hospital at 9:45 o'clock New Year's eve.

Mr. Polding suffered a punctured lung from fractures of the seventh, eighth and ninth ribs, which caused his death. In addition, he suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, just above the ankle.

According to the story told state police by Jacob Schweg of Carpenter Park, Tire Hill, Pa., in Somerset county, Mr. Polding walked into the side of his car, when he swung out into the middle of Route 224, near Miller avenue, and was knocked to the pavement.

Mr. Schweg confirmed the story told by her husband.

BOY KILLED BY BULLET

HANOVER, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—A four year old boy died in Hanover hospital today, the victim of an "unloaded" .22 calibre rifle.

State police said the tot, Warren Grant Wetzel, was wounded in the head yesterday afternoon while he and his older brother, Marlin, 7, were playing with the gun.

Second Session Of 81st Congress Opens

By WILLIAM THEIS (By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The 81st congress embarked on its second session at noon today in "glamorized" chambers with the familiar issues of taxes, government spending and civil rights confronting the legislators.

The White House set the stage for a hard-hitting debate early in the session by disclosing that President Truman will ask new taxes in a special message to congress next week.

The word was passed after the chief executive conferred with the administration's congressional big four—and gave them a preview of the annual state of the union message he will deliver personally before a joint session of senate and house tomorrow.

Lawmakers returned to Washington after a scant 11-week respite from the grind of the first session which closed on Oct. 19.

New Councilmen And Controller Inducted Monday

Take Office In Ceremonies Conducted In Council Chamber, City Hall

NEW COUNCILMEN GIVEN DEPARTMENTS

Joseph F. Medure and E. Eugene Schweinsberg were inducted as city councilmen, and Charles A. Kennedy, as city controller by Mayor John F. Haven when council convened at 10 a.m. Monday, in city hall. The ceremony lasted 40 minutes. Two hundred persons attended the induction.

Upon convening, Joseph D. Alexander and James Gibson, retiring councilmen, and W. A. Moore, retiring controller, took their seats. City Clerk Jack Fritz called the roll after which Mayor John F. Haven presented him with a certified copy of the county Board of Election returns, which he read.

According to the returns, Mr. Schweinsberg got 9,334 votes, Mr. Medure 9,200 and Mr. Kennedy, 9,184.

The mayor said it was time to induct the new officials whereupon Messrs Alexander, Gibson and Moore surrendered their seats.

New Officials Sworn In

The mayor then had Mrs. Edna Reimold read the Third class city law pertaining to elected officials, after which Messrs Schweinsberg, Medure and Kennedy were sworn into office, separately.

However, before Mr. Kennedy was asked to subscribe to the oath, the Mayor had Mrs. Reimold read the Third class city law pertaining to the controller position. It prescribes that the controller must be a competent accountant.

After it was read, the mayor inquired of Mr. Kennedy:

"Are you a competent accountant?"

"I am," Mr. Kennedy replied.

The mayor invited the new officials to take their seats, shook hands with, and welcomed them, following which he welcomed the audience which had come to witness the ceremony.

Council Convenes

He then requested City Clerk Jack Fritz to call the roll, convening the new council. The roll call, in order, was: Mr. Medure, Mr. Davis, Mr. Schweinsberg, Mr. Hoyland, and Mayor Haven.

Bidault Facing New Challenges

PARIS, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Premier Georges Bidault, who barely scraped up parliamentary support for his controversial budget yesterday, faces new challenges today which may overthrow his cabinet and force new general elections.

The French premier obtained three votes of confidence in the national assembly—on proposals to increase taxes, to balance the budget and on the budget as a whole—but he's not through yet.

The record $6,500,000,000 budget now goes to the council of the republic, which has only advisory powers on legislation, and then back to the assembly for final action.

Slight shifts in assembly sentiment before the start of final debate could bring a fatal defeat to the two-month-old Modrate cabinet.

We scattered tinsel from door to door, and ornaments scooted around, and the light strings tangled in funny knots, but we got the Christmas tree down. It took some time and a bit of work, and wasn't nearly the fun we had the night that we put it up, but some how when we were done, the room looked vacant, though tidier, and as we put the trinkets away, we counted days till next Christmas time, it's 60 today.

New Route 422 Will Be Four Lane Highway

Bids for the construction of Highway 422 from New Castle to the Butler county line will be advertised January 20.

Captain Roger W. Rowland, chairman of the Republican county committee was notified today that the new highway will be a four lane highway, divided in the middle by a concrete barrier. Each lane will be 22 feet wide.

The contract will be let by the Highway and Bridge Authority and will include a bridge over the Slippery Rock creek near Rose Point.

The length of the highway to be constructed will be 8.2 miles.

Says Intervention In Formosa Would Mean World War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Chairman Kee (D) W. Va., of the house foreign affairs committee declared flatly today that U. S. naval intervention in Formosa would "mean World War III."

He expressed strong opposition to the proposals of former President Herbert Hoover and senate GOP policy leader Taft, Ohio, that the United States use its fleet if necessary to prevent Chinese communists from taking Formosa.

HOLIDAY PERIOD FATALITIES MAY REACH 350 TOTAL

About 80 persons died from miscellaneous causes.

The National Safety Council predicted before the long weekend started at 6 p.m. Friday that 330 persons would be killed on the nation's highways by midnight last night.

In the parade of deadly statistics Illinois listed 25 violent deaths, Pennsylvania had 19 and Michigan 18.

Drifting snows in the Rocky mountains region and the upper plains states were expected to boost the highway death toll when final figures are reported.

Snow and near sub-zero temperatures prevailed across Montana and Wyoming and were creeping in on most of western Kansas and Colorado. Near-blizzard conditions were forecast for the Dakotas and Nebraska.

rights, foreign aid and foreign policy on such hot spots as China.

Democratic chiefs of the house and senate called upon President Truman this morning and went over the state of the union message the president will deliver to a joint session Wednesday.

Senate Republican leaders at the same time called a policy meeting of their own and summoned all GOP senators to a conference this afternoon. They and house Republicans hope to make this session pay off with congressional victories at the polls in November.

Make-Up Of Congress

Despite several replacements, the senate membership in the new session remains at 54 Democrats to 42 Republicans. Sens. Lehman (D) N. Y., Benton (D) Conn., and Darby (R) Kan. will be sworn in as soon as the senate meets.

The house will have 262 Democrats, 169 Republicans, one American-Laborite and three vacancies.

Majority Leader Lucas (D) Ill., announced that the senate will get off to a flying start tomorrow by calling up the oleomargarine tax repeal bill.

This bill will be followed on Jan. 20, under prior senate order, by the basing point bill and the middle-income housing aid bill left over from last year.

The senate Democratic policy committee laid down this initial agenda at a meeting Monday. Democratic steering committee members will meet to make committee assignments this afternoon, and a conference of all majority senators will be held Thursday.

The house planned no major business for this week, but GOP Floor Leader Martin (R) Mass. wasted no time setting forth the Republican position on the big issue.

NEW COUNCIL IN MORNING SESSION

parks and property and public affairs.

He said the alphabetical roll call, which has been the practice, was a "hold-over" practice since the change in government in 1913.

"It makes no difference to me," said Director Davis.

"There should be some procedure," the Mayor suggested.

"It makes no difference to me," said Director Schweinsberg.

"I move Council designate seats (probably meaning the roll call) by department," said Director Hoyland.

It received no second, the Mayor ruled.

"I move the roll call be alphabetical," said Director Medure.

The vote was unanimous, hence the directors will vote on questions as follows:

Davis, Hoyland, Medure, Schweinsberg and Mayor Haven.

Execute Contract

The next item transacted was authority voted to Mayor Haven to execute a contract with the New Castle division of the Bossert company whereby the company deeds property in Industrial street to the city in exchange for some property in the Mahoning-Preston avenue district owned by the city.

Industrial street is ordained but not legally opened, but leads to the industries south of Mahoning avenue.

Finance Director Hoyland offered a motion that Council recess and study the 1950 budget, which calls for expenditures of more than a million dollars.

The five directors joined Mr. Hoyland in the caucus room.

Until the budget is approved the city cannot purchase anything because the appropriation has not been definitely made, hence it is desired that it be adopted as soon as possible.

Court was adjourned and the newly elected officials held receiving lines in the court room.

STILL ALARM

Firemen were called to the Penn Apartments on Neshannock avenue, Sunday afternoon at 4:45, when smoke was reported in the building. It was found to come from a pan of buns, which had been left in the oven in the rooms of B. Anodie. Firemen removed the buns from the oven.

ing for bids on the construction of four reinforced cement structures for the new road. The bridges are listed as being in New Castle, Shenango and Slippery Rock townships. The bridge planned at Willow Brook listed as being a part of the city. The bids will be opened in Harrisburg, January 20.

Monday was spent by numerous residents of the city and county in dismantling the Christmas trees which stood so gracefully during the holiday period in the various homes. It is hoped that the trees will not be kicked around the city streets during the next several weeks but that they will be disposed of quickly.

Losing no time after the holiday period, workmen of the local electric company began their task this morning of removing the Christmas lighting system and other displays which were erected in the downtown section of the city. The streets will look bare for a while until visitors to the business section can get used to the decorations being gone.

Pa Newc asks his annual question, with the arrival of the first business day of 1950. How many times today did you write 1949?

City of New Castle traffic policemen apparently spent a busy forenoon in the senior high school area. Ten cars on Centennial street between Wallace and Lincoln avenues bore little yellow parking tickets.

New Quake Shock In Manila Area

MANILA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—The Manila area was rocked today by a jolting earthquake described by seismologists as an aftermath of the temblor that shook the central and northern Philippines last Thursday.

Today's quake struck at 10:53 a. m. (6:53 p. m. Monday PST) and was registered as nearing an intensity of four on a scale in which 10 is reckoned as meaning destruction, last week's quake was rated at an intensity of five.

There were no immediate reports of casualties or major damage.

POLLOCK P. T. A. WILL HEAR BEN ROSENBAUM

Members of the Pollock avenue Parent-Teachers association will meet Wednesday evening at eight o'clock in the school library.

Guest speaker of the evening will be Ben Rosenbaum, graduate of Harvard and Oxford universities, noted author, journalist and advertising executive. His subject will be "The Romantic Side of Education." Anyone is invited to attend this meeting.

DRIVER IS HELD

James G. Davis, East Gagfield avenue, was charged by Acting Chief of Police Willis G. McMullen with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated at 9:50 p. m. yesterday at South Jefferson and South streets. Four vehicles were involved in an accident as a result, all being damaged.

Davis was driving north in South Jefferson street, when his auto struck a bus, glanced away, then hit the car of Leonard Lengye, of 22 Cliff street, police say. Davis' car then struck the parked cars of Frank Haas, 214 Park avenue, and John Biddle, of 813 Etna street, the police report.

Medure Names His Secretary

Miss Betty Fortuna of Garfield avenue, is to be secretary to Joseph F. Medure, director of parks and property, and who is also the purchasing agent of the city.

She was being taught her duties today by Mrs. Leona Dietterle, who held the position during the reign of Director Joe Alexander.

Mrs. Dietterle is to succeed Mrs. Edna Reimold as secretary to Mayor John F. Haven, commencing Monday next.

Prime Minister Pandit Nehru's determination to make modern India a nation beholden to no other on earth was emphasized in striking fashion by his recognition of Communist China without awaiting a nod from 10 Downing Street.

The action was entirely without reservation. Nehru not only gave the Communist regime established in ancient Peking the dignity of full diplomatic status, but he severed relations with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

No Surprise In Itself

Nehru's step, which is certain to have lively effects throughout the Far East, was no surprise in itself.

As long ago as October, government circles in New Delhi said that the possibility of recognition was being explored.

It was thought likely, however, that inasmuch as India remains in the Commonwealth as a dominion, Nehru's government would follow Britain's lead in the matter instead of taking the initiative.

The contrary has been the case, and as a result Nehru immediately has won for himself a commanding position at the forthcoming conference of dominion and colonial ministers opening next month at Colombo on the Island of Ceylon.

At the time he took over with the tragic assassination of Mohandas Gandhi, Nehru made it amply clear that while he could not follow in the Mahatma's spiritual footsteps, he would do all in his power to make India strong, prosperous and as independent as conceivably possible.

On his recent visit to the United States, Nehru came full of admiration for American democracy.

But his hat was not in his hand and it was evident from the outside that while India under his rule would cooperate with all nations it would align itself militarily with none.

As a matter of fact, he went so far as to say that India never would participate in any eastern or western bloc regardless of what blandishments might be offered.

Nehru is a man of peculiar contradictions except for his undying faith in India's destiny.

A wealthy man and scion of an aristocratic family, Nehru's personal life is one of utmost simplicity. His courtly upbringing and impeccable background automatically make him a foe of the

Washington Calling

Fear Purpose Being Diverted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—A great deal of wrangling has gone on backstage over the series of reports which the President's Council of Economic Advisers is issuing on the state of the nation's economy and the prospects for the year. Directly at stake is the willingness of the public, on the one hand, and the professional economists and business analysts, on the other hand, to continue to put credence in the council's reports.

From professional economists on the council's staff came most of the criticism. They are fearful that the original purpose in creating the council, which was to establish a group of experts who could objectively and dispassionately appraise the nation's economic balance sheet, is being perverted.

It is not that they were necessarily in accord with the viewpoint of former Chairman Edwin G. Nourse when Nourse quit in sharp disagreement with the other council members. But they were behind Nourse in his conviction that the council should be a professional body with a professional approach.

Difference Is Shown

This difference came out sharply in the preparation of the council's economic report to Congress. (Not to be confused with the report to the president on business and government that is out during the week.) Both Acting Chairman Leon Keyserling and the second member, John D. Clark, see 1950 in the rosy glow of optimism.

They see high production levels and high employment with hardly a cloud to mar the bright sky. This is especially true of Clark who after becoming a vice president and director of Standard Oil of Indiana resigned to get a Ph. D. in

Great Game Of Politics

Administration "Strategy Plan"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. SOMETIMES the ardent praise of a President's friends constitutes a more deadly indictment than any his enemies can frame. An interesting instance of this is afforded in the explanation of the "legislative strategy" fashioned by his intimate advisers, which Mr. Truman brought back with him from Key West and which is expected to become the party line in the session of Congress about to open.

ACCORDING to those who reliably reflect the views of the White House "insiders," this strategy proves that, though he may not always seem so, Mr. Truman really is an extremely clever man and is just about to tie the "rigidly stupid" Republicans in a knot they will be unable to untie in time to put up even a respectable fight in 1950. In this advisory group there is considerable self-adulation and congratulation over the smartness of the presidential program. Apparently, there is no appreciation that it makes Mr. Truman appear a hypocritical and unprincipled man who calculatingly plans a particular low species of deception upon the American people.

YET that is precisely what it does and the aforesaid journalistic reflectors, though they may not themselves see it, make no effort to disguise the fact. Here is the "strategy" as they somewhat shamelessly present it. The purpose of the President at this session is to present himself as the fighting champion of the three great voting groups—organized labor, the farmers and the Negroes. At the same time the "stupid" Republicans are to be made to seem the enemies of these groups, which then are expected to show their gratitude to the Democrats at the polls. But all this is to be accomplished without the passage of any helpful legislation whatever for these groups before the election. True, in his soon-to-be-delivered state of the Union message the President will strongly insist again upon repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act, the enactment of his so-called civil-rights program and the passage of the Brannan farm bill, the cost of which even its author has not been able to estimate.

THESE are the three pieces of legislation which Mr. Truman will demand in his message. But, say those who framed this "strategy" and are, curiously enough, proud of it, not one of these measures will be passed. "Nothing," wrote one of the more outspoken of the Fair Deal commentators, "could more upset the White House than for the lawmakers to bow to the President's expressed will in his session." In brief, the "demand" will be wholly insincere. The whole idea is to beat the drums for these three pieces of legislation, to put up a grand show in their favor but in all three cases refrain from putting enough Administration weight behind any one of them to permit its passage. Success of this scheme, it is pointed out, will not only preserve all three as live issues for the 1950 campaign but will enable the Truman Administration to blame failure of its phony program upon the Republicans and Dixiecrats, whom they will indict as enemies of organized labor, the farmers and the Negroes.

THERE are several things to be said about this "strategy." One, of course, is that, accepting the printed explanations of those who favor and framed it, it is one of the most brazen pieces of political skulduggery ever known in our politics. Another is that it is entirely typical of the political advisers by whom Mr. Truman is surrounded. Most of these are decent men in their personal lives, but in politics appear to have no sense of right or wrong and are willing to form any combination, make any alliance and practice any deceit to win an election. The thought of how their political plans will affect the country is so completely secondary as not to be considered at all. Every legislative proposal, every White House recommendation is rooted in politics. Every move is made with the view of holding organized labor, the farmer and the Negroes—the three bought groups upon whose support Mr. Roosevelt was three times elected and which the Truman effort is to stay bought.

HIS advisers are not consciously wicked. Their journalistic spokesmen ought to know better, but the White House political strategists do not. This is the way they were born, bred and trained. The question is, can they get away with it this time? The strategy, of course, is based on the belief that the great mass of the people are credulous dupes. It is an insult to the intelligence of every decent citizen and certainly ought to be resented by the three groups with whom they are playing. But the Fair Deal, like the New Deal, has immensely superior propaganda agencies. It also has a tremendous bureaucratic political machine. Also it has a great deal of money. And, it is true, the split Republicans help by their stupidity. Nevertheless, it is a revolting piece of hocus-pocus and not the least offensive phase of it will be the extreme smugness of its advocates and the unctuous and noble sentiments which will pour out from Administration spokesmen in its favor.

CRISIS IN ASIA

If 1950 is to be the "year of crisis" in Asia, the political, economic and military leaders of both East and West are already working in high gear. Washington has just announced it is sending the 27,000-ton aircraft carrier Boxer and two destroyers to strengthen the U. S. fleet in Asiatic waters.

In Moscow, Mao of Communist China is deep in discussions with the Kremlin's top men about closer partnership with the Soviet Union. Their common aims include a stronger hold on China and long-range strategy against southeast Asia, Indonesia, and doubtless India.

In the British dominion of Ceylon, British Foreign Secretary Bevin is soon to meet with missions from all the other great and small dominions. The U. S. ambassador-at-large, Philip C. Jessup, is touring the Far East to see and find out all he can.

What can the United States do to prevent the Red tide from engulfing Japan and the Philippines? A guarantee of force against military aggression, short of military aid—which failed so miserably in China—seems worthless.

A newly fledged United States of Indonesia is being watched by Russia. Soekarn is an unknown quantity when it comes to responsible leadership of a free country.

Are there any potential Titos in China? How soon can a Japanese peace treaty be effected that will afford Japan security against aggression, guarantee a stable government, and enable her to support herself?

Asia may, in fact, be the focal point of the cold war during the year now starting.

PRICE COMPARISON

Fifty years ago prices were much lower in this country. Beef roasts were eight cents a pound. Ladies (widely used as a generic term for women in those days) could get a "cambrie undershirt trimmed with tucks, lace insert and ruffle of lace" for 49 cents. Room and board—a good room with French meals—could be had in high-priced New York for $5 a week, elsewhere for less. A good tailor was making men's suits to order for $15. Eggs were 14 cents a dozen in Chicago.

A dollar would buy more—much more—in those days. The catch is that a dollar was harder to get. A stenographer and typist could earn $7 a week, if she were experienced, no clock-watcher, and willing to work much longer than 40 hours a week. Skilled ladies' clothing workers might earn as much as $15, with no overtime bonus, workmen's compensation or pension benefits.

These figures are interesting, but what do they actually mean in human terms? An hour's work bought less then, despite low prices, than an hour's work buys now. Materially the country has advanced. But there is no way of computing from these data any coefficient of human happiness and spiritual well-being.

In the things that really matter, are people really better off now?

EINSTEIN'S NEW THEORY

It formerly was said of Dr. Albert Einstein's theory of relativity that only a dozen other men in the world were capable of understanding it. That was when the theory was new and may have been an exaggeration, but it suggested vividly the rarified atmosphere in which the physicist did the thinking that led to his conclusions.

He appears to have resumed his speculations on this high level after an interlude in which left-wing political opinions were frequently credited to him. At any rate, he has come up with a new hypothesis or, as he calls it, "A Generalized Theory of Gravitation."

Every layman is aware that the theory of relativity had practical consequences of tremendous significance. It led to a concept of the unification of space and time that found its most spectacular verification when the atomic bomb exploded. It seems logical to believe that this new extension of that theory can lead to comparable advances.

This may not follow. Dr. Einstein's paper says that his attempt at solving the problem of linking gravitation and electromagnetism is "highly convincing" but that he has yet to find a way of testing the theory with experimental evidence. But there is no question that his thinking has left its impress on the present era and the chances are that his new product of his genius will bear tangible fruit in the future.

The distant future, perhaps. In the past it has taken decades before such formulas as Einstein's could be translated into actualities. But perhaps this is fortunate. When men have learned how to control atomic energy they may be fitted to command whatever new knowledge flows from Dr. Einstein's late theory.

All Congressional payrolls are to be made public, which should reveal many family secrets.

If there is no gold in the human body, as chemists maintain, where does this leave the individual who is supposed to have a heart of that sort?

A dynamite factory is safer than a kitchen, according to accident statistics. Apparently the mechanical age has not fully overtaken the dynamite industry.

The Good Old Days were those in which an old horse blanket over the hood, instead of seven dollars' worth of anti-freeze in the radiator, sufficed for a cold snap.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

COST OF CLOTHES INCREASES WITH INCOME

What proportion of the average family's income is spent on clothes? When this income increases does the proportion spent on clothes remain the same? Here is the well-known Engel's law of family expenditures: As the family's income increases, the proportion of expenditure for clothing, rent, fuel and light tends to be fairly constant while the proportion for food decreases and that for cultural enjoyment increases.

At the lower income level, of course, the largest percentage of the income must go for food. The remaining dollars are divided among the other family needs including clothing. In some cases debts are incurred to secure bare necessities and the family operates at a loss. As the family income then increases, more of it is spent for food until fairly comfortable living is provided by the income earned.

In that recent book, "Clothing for Children," chock full of facts, by Thompson and Rea, two brilliant home economists, one may find the following: In the period 1935-36 from 8 to 14 per cent of the family income in the United States went for clothing. The average for all income levels was about 10 per cent. For the family with an income of as much as $15,000 the proportion was about 14 per cent.

On which members of the family is most money spent for clothes? According to Benjamin R. Andrews (Economics of the Household), the apportionment among a family of five is about like this: for mother, 31 per cent; for father, 27; twelve-year-old child, 17; eight-year-old child, 15; four-year-old child, 10 per cent.

Thompson and Rea state that if a farm family spent $100 a year on clothing, about $35 would be used for the mother's clothing, about $25 for the father's, and $40 for the ten-year-old. If a farm family with the same income had three children, the parents would spend about $30 each, leaving $40 to be divided among the three children.

As a rule, farm families spend less on their wardrobe than city families of comparable incomes, in spite of the fact that the farm home has more persons to be clothed. Perhaps farm families assign a larger proportion to the automobile and savings. Of course, clothing means more to city dwellers in respect to social prestige.

Families of like incomes differ widely in what they spend for clothes. In some families many of the garments may be made at home while in other families few or none are. Housewives vary widely in wisdom at shopping for clothes.

Wise parents have occasional family conferences for talking over what they have to spend, what clothes each member needs, and the best choice that can be made. They revise their plans from time to time and they remember that the budget must be balanced. All the desirable family relationships emphasized in this column from time to time may be very useful when any member of the family wishes to have some new clothes.

Folks Of Fame

Homere de Balzac was a famous novelist born at Tours, May 20, 1799. He left school when he was between 17 and 18 years old, and practiced law for three years. Later he was a publisher, printer and type-founder, but business was not his forte and only resulted in heavy debts which he spent nearly all his life in paying. His real literary work began in 1829. Comedie Humaine (Human Comedy), Modeste Mignon, Les Paysans, Les Petits, Bourgeois and the Devil stories are some of the titles of his voluminous output of 21 years. He died on Sunday, Aug. 17, 1850, in Paris.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell was born at Kensington Gardens, London, England, Feb. 9, 1865. She made her stage debut in Liverpool in a play called Bachelors. Soon after she played many Shakespearean heroines with the Ben Gert Playhouse—two being Rosalind in As You Like It, and Viola in Twelfth Night. At various times in her noted career she starred in The Hunchback, The School for Scandal, The White Rose, The Lights of Home and The Second Mrs. Tangueray. She made her first appearance on the New York stage in 1902. Hedda Gabler, Magda and The Thirteenth Chair were later roles. She died April 9, 1940.

BIBLE THOUGHT

And we know that the Son of God is come, and hath given us an understanding, that we may know him that is true, and we are of him that is true, even in his Son Jesus Christ. This is the true God and eternal life. Little children, keep yourselves from idols. Amen.—John 15:20, 21.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

1950. 1950. 1950. Just another new year. But somehow it looks different from 1947, 1948, 1949.

It must be that "50," I guess—that half-century look.

There's something important looking about "50"—something very adult, very mature.

In married life the 50th wedding anniversary is the Golden Wedding. It's cause for great celebration.

When an employee has been with his firm fifty years, they usually give him a luncheon or a banquet and some valuable token of their affection.

So, "50" indicates a milestone. It is almost the end of the first half of our 20th century.

And to us who have lived all of these fifty years, it brings the awesome realization that we have lived half a hundred years or more.

In history fifty years is but a moment. In human life a half century is a lot.

pulling, it seems for almost 1950 years!

Let me make a prediction. Nineteen hundred and fifty will not be one bit different from all the 1949 years A.D. that have gone before.

We will make the same mistakes we have always made. We will expect the year, and many tasks, with the best intentions and then falter in their execution.

We will love and we will hate. We will have colds and fevers. We will eat and drink, get indigestion and recover.

Please don't think I am trying to you start off on a discordant and pessimistic note.

It's just the contrary I am trying to do.

I have enjoyed every minute of the first 49 years of this century. I have enjoyed my pleasures and my pains, my virtues and my vices.

My pains have taught me the delights of pleasures. My vices have shown me the advantage of virtues.

One of the reasons why life is so wonderful is that it is a mixture of pleasure and pain, of virtue and vice.

All virtue and pleasure would be monotonous. All pain and vice would be inhuman.

But all mixed up, as it is, it is the nicest life any one of us will ever be able to enjoy.

So here's to 1950—let us make the best of it to the best of our ability. Let us make the most of it by putting into it all that we have in wisdom, faith and courage.

In other words: A Happy New Year!

State Police Say:

Volunteer fire companies are permitted by law to organize within their departments certain members to serve as fire-police. Fire-police have full authority to regulate traffic at fires and to enforce the provisions of the traffic laws while the volunteer fire company is enroute to, attending, and returning from a fire.

The State Police suggest that you comply with the instructions of a fire-policeman the same as you would comply with the instructions of any other law enforcement officer.

Will Not Consider

"I found myself making an extemporaneous speech on why I would not consider the position. It is the only time in my life I have felt satisfied with an extemporaneous speech."

Another prospect intimated that he would be interested only if there were one more resignation from the council. That is to say he felt that if he accepted the chairmanship, he would find himself in a minority of one, as Nourse was prior to his resignation.

As the economists who have worked with him clearly recognize, Keyserling has extraordinary intellectual force and capacity. But they object to his tendency to fall back on free-flowing rhetoric instead of sticking to hard facts and a careful interpretation of their meaning.

In this political year the reaction to the newest report to Congress is likely to be tinged with politics, especially as Nourse has become something of a hero with conservatives since his resignation.

He has spoken repeatedly to business groups in various parts of the country. But far more is at stake than the future of any one individual. The whole concept of the council—a body of expert appraisers—may be lost sight of and that will be a serious loss to government.

By Walter Kiernan

(By International News Service)

Happy New Year... and as Dr. Einstein might say "may all your problems be relative and your relatives be theories in the new year."

Einstein says to call back in 20 years and he will be ready to explain his new theory... if he's not ready, wait a little.

In the meantime we will have the state of the union message... that ought to keep us occupied.

And as between the professor's and the President's interpretation of gravity, Mr. Truman's will be more immediate.

Congress returns to Washington today... and the members have delightful memories of the Christmas holidays and will now take up the tax bill and spoil years.

But things will really begin to get interesting when these revenue measures get two-thirds of the nation where one-third used to be.

They've been taking it off the top so long the top is getting closer to the bottom.

On going to sea with the British Mediterranean Fleet Prince Philip took his personal yacht along aboard an aircraft carrier. We could be wrong but somehow we doubt that this is standard sea-going equipment for officers and men of the King's navy.—Kansas City Star.

More Of 1950 Will Be Spent Sleeping Than Working

If you're an average person, do you realize that in 1950 almost 43 per cent of your time will be spent in sleeping while actually only 23 per cent of your time will be spent in work.

Figures don't lie according to some fancy pencil work done by a reporter who for the fun of it decided to learn just how much we sleep, how much we work and what time is spent in recreation and other activity.

If you get the required 10 hours as prescribed by many medicos, most New Castle residents will spend 3,650 hours of the 8,760 found in the year in bed. Delving deeper it was learned with amazement that Mr. and Mrs. New Castle will spend about 23 per cent of their time at the task of making a living for the family.

Simple subtraction leaves 34 per cent of the normal routine left for pleasure, going to church or sitting home watching television.

Arriving at the above conclusions took some little figuring, but after deductions for holidays, Sundays, vacations and various other days, it is found that not too great a proportion of our time is actually spent at the bread winning task.

Parking Meters Net $44,213.50 In Year

Amount Collected From Motorists For Parking Exceeds Officials' Expectations

Collection of parking meter fees for the year 1949 exceeded expectations of city fathers, motorists having paid $44,213.50, for the privilege of occupying a "stall" along thoroughfares where meters are located.

It had been anticipated that $40,000 would be raised for general revenue, a fund from which general expenses of the city is paid. The $44,213.50, represents 884,270 nickels put into the city parking "slots."

Police department receipts for the last month of 1949 struck a new low, only $451.75 having been realized from fines and forfeits imposed in city police courts.

Health bureau attaches report only approximately 12 persons were quarantined in 1949 for having a contagious illness. There was no diphtheria, typhoid fever or smallpox here last year.

Permits to build issued by Neil Williams during 1949 numbered 446. The total cost of construction and the type involved, is now being compiled by Alice Reed, city bureau of building attaché.

There were 5,829 arrests made by city police during 1949, according to the police docket. Of the 5,829, the majority were persons who paid fines for violating the parking meter ordinance.

Parsonage Being Re-Constructed

St. Paul's Baptist Congregation Begins Reconstruction Work On Home

For many years the parsonage of St. Paul's Baptist church has been unoccupied. Drives have been conducted and money has been raised. As the officers and congregation felt that the church indebtedness was a major item, the parsonage was left to almost physical ruin.

Work on re-constructing the brick house has begun. Members of the church are giving time, money and material to make the parsonage in a respectful condition for the pastor, Rev. Henry Payden, and his family.

Friends are contributing various items without request. Officers and Rev. Payden appreciate what the many New Castle friends have done in fostering this project. A truck will pick up the blocks that are being donated.

Now Philadelphians Can Use Call Boxes

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(INS)—No longer are Philadelphians required to keep hands off the little red police call box on the corner. The 1,200 call-boxes strategically placed on street corners throughout the city are being converted into emergency public telephone systems for emergencies, according to the International City Manufacturers Association.

In the past the boxes were used exclusively by patrolmen making periodic office reports. After the changeover, the call boxes will be in service 24 hours a day to give the public instant contact with police. The boxes will be identified with the wording on the side "Police phone— for public emergency use."

Locks on the boxes will be replaced with easy-to-open latches.

Dr. Jas. K. Pollock Gets High Honor

Dr. James K. Pollock, professor of Political Science at the University of Michigan has been elected president of the American Political Science Association.

The association is composed of political science professors of the country and men and women who study the science of government. Dr. Pollock's election came at the New York convention of the association which closed this week. He is the youngest man ever to be named president.

Dr. Pollock is a member of the Hoover Commission, which has made a series of recommendations for greater efficiency in government. He is a former New Castle man, the son of the late Dr. and Mrs. James Pollock. He is a brother of Mrs. Rachel Pollock Taylor, of this city.

Pulaski Is Now Looking Ahead

Progressive Planning Program
Scheduled—Rev. Hovencamp
To Speak
(Contributed)

The Community of Pulaski is fortunate in obtaining Rev. Ralph E. Hovencamp, rector of Trinity Episcopal church of New Castle, and an accomplished speaker well-known and much in demand in this area, as the principal speaker for the January PTA meeting. The meeting is scheduled to start promptly at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, January 11, in the Pulaski school-house.

Rev. Hovencamp's subject will be "Looking Ahead in Education." Nothing could be more fitting as a subject or title at this time. The active, progressive citizens of Pulaski are aroused to the point of taking action to procure a new school building. This timely talk will surely be of more than usual interest to not only every citizen of Pulaski township, but to residents of other townships in Lawrence and Mercer counties.

Pulaski is continually striving and accomplishing. The citizens who comprise the community take a real interest in government and improvement. The Pulaski PTA was one of the first Parent-Teachers Associations in the United States to go on record as offering its support to President Truman and the Congress in their attempt to reorganize the executive branch of our government as recommended by the Hoover Commission. Several residents have been members of the National Citizens Committee for some time. Pulaski was represented at the first National Reorganization Conference, which was held in the nation's capital for two days last month, December 12 and 13.

A new and growing Lions Club has been formed in Pulaski and is attracting and holding attention of many of the enterprising male citizens. A December highlight was the presentation of the charter at a dinner in the Cathedral in New Castle.

The Sportsmen's Club has acquired land for a community building and athletic field and already has what is said to be the best baseball diamond on the North County League. A top notch ball team is regularly sponsored by the sportsmen.

A revitalized Boy Scout troop has the Sportsmen's Club backing them and if interest is an indication of prospects, the scouts have a bright future to look forward to. But in Pulaski, as elsewhere, little would function without the ladies. Their organizations take the lead whenever anything is "put over." They are the mainstays in the other organizations, too. The Community Association, the Odd Fellows, the churches, the Girl Scouts, the school, and about anything else you can mention, all depend on the planning and cooperation of the women.

It can now be said that Pulaski "has seen the light." Such a statement may seem more appropriate a few weeks hence, inasmuch as Pulaski is anxiously awaiting installation of street lights. All that remains to be done is the installation by the Pennsylvania Power company. But the real light is the realization which has come that little can be accomplished without cooperation.

Plan now. Set aside January 11.

M. L. Raney Retires As B. & O. Engineer

Has Continuous Service From October 1, 1897—Began As Call-boy With P. and W. R. R.

Beginning January 1, 1950, Myron L. (Bert) Raney of 201 Newell avenue receives a pension from the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company after completing a service of 52 years and two months on December 24, last year.

Mr. Raney was a locomotive engineer and during his service he also served as roundhouse foreman here for four years, two years as assistant road foreman and two years as assistant trainmaster.

He started his railroad career as a callboy in 1887 with the Pittsburgh and Western Railroad, later absorbed by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He began work as a fireman in 1888, and was promoted to engineer in 1890. In 1893 he left the P. and W. R. R. and was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad and worked in the shop for four years, returning to the P. and W. R. R. (now B. & O. R. R.) in October 13, 1897, and has been in their continuous service since.

Mr. Raney has been a resident of the Seventh ward for many years. He states he is in the best of health.

Deadline For Civil Service Applicants Set For January 6

Examinations For Enforcement Officers And Examiners To Be Held Jan. 28

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—January 6 will be the last day to file State Civil Service Commission applications for enforcement officer and examiner positions in the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

The reminder has been issued by the SCSC which pointed out that written examinations will be held at nine cities on January 28. There are more than 80 jobs to be filled in three PLCB classifications: junior enforcement officer, $2,820 to $3,168 a year, assistant enforcement examiner, $2,820 to $3,168, and report examiner, $2,496 to $2,820.

Examinations will be conducted at Allentown, DuBois, Erie, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport.

The commission pointed out that only male applicants will be allowed to take the enforcement officer and examiner examinations while both men and women over 21 may submit applications for the report examiner test.

Between 25 and 60 Applicants for the enforcement officer post must be between 25 and 60 years of age.

Candidates for assistant enforcement examiner must be at least 21. In addition, all applicants must be citizens and legal residents of the commonwealth for at least one year before making application.

Successful candidates for the junior enforcement officer will be required to pass a physical examination before appointment.

The PLCB has asked the commission to emphasize that enforcement officers will be subject to retirement at the age of 60. Exceptions to this rule can be made only with the approval of the PLCB.

Junior enforcement officer candidates must be not less than five (5) feet, six (6) inches nor more than six (6) feet, three (3) inches in height and must weigh between 130 and 225 pounds. In addition, vision shall not be less than 20/40 without glasses and candidates must be able to distinguish colors accurately.

SEVERAL MINOR ACCIDENTS HERE

Several accidents occurred January 1, according to city police department reports.

James Dean, a taxicab driver, sustained a laceration of the nose when his taxi struck a Mahoning avenue viaduct girder when Dean swerved his car to avoid being struck by an oncoming car at 5:10 a. m. January 1.

Victor Gillett, Ryan avenue, drove a car which struck the parked car owned by J. E. Richardson, New Bedford R. D. 9 at 1206 Highland avenue at 12:40 p. m. Jan. 1.

Submit's Plan To U. N.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Albert S. Falk, bearded Minnesota paperhanger, said he would submit to the United Nations his pension plan to give everyone in the world over 21 an income of $20 to $50 a month. Falk said he would wait till the UN reconvenes to present his plan to "cure" the world's economic and other ills.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

DISCONTENTED WIFE

"I am 21 and my husband is 30. We were married two years ago, both worked and lived with my parents. I was an only child and have never been used to assuming household responsibilities. Now we have our own home. Because my husband wanted me to stay home and let him support the household, I gave up my job. Six months of this arrangement have made me miss having my own money. I cannot go on the clothes-buying spree that I used to. The readjustment period has made me very bitter and disagreeable. Married life for me is now far from rosy. I love my husband but cannot endure doing without what I have been used to. I find myself developing an uncontrollable temper, at which times, I hurl abusive language at my husband who readily forgives me when the storm has blown over. Have you any suggestions for improving my situation?"

Answer: Consider again your marriage vows and make a good, comfortable home for your husband, living within his means, get a job and help balance the budget or call the whole thing off.

Don't permit yourself to develop into a cruel, nagging wife. A shrew is never attractive, especially to her mate, who eventually learns to spend as little time as possible in her presence, if his conscience will not permit him to desert her forever. Furthermore, there is no greater violation of all the rules of good taste than that of unreasonable argument resulting from loss of self-control.

I have never been an advocate of wife-beating, but it seems that a little masculine severity from your husband would put you in your place. If you don't like the way your husband is supporting and telling him so, suggesting that you get a job and earn enough to buy the silly luxuries you crave. He is apparently so indulgent that he will assent. Many a man has been driven to pilfering his employer's funds to satisfy the whims of an extravagant woman.

There is only one way to control a bad temper. Don't give in to it. When you find yourself becoming unmanageable, go away from the cause, remain alone until you have regained your equilibrium. If, after deliberation, you find you are to blame, be ready and willing with apologies and a firm determination to keep the peace in future.

ALWAYS A REASON

AUSTIN, Tex.—A new excuse for ignoring the siren of a pursuing patrol car was added to the roster of the time-worn reasons when the defendant in a drunken driving case explained: "I thought fire trucks were after me and I was trying to get out of their way."

SOL AND SORLEY

Sorley is much too heavy for her height. She is too plump. She is pretty, just the same.

The extra fat does not hurt her looks very much. She feels fine and likes to eat. So why worry.

Mom wants her to be more careful about her cats but she pays no attention.

Along comes Joe. Sorley falls in love. Joe does not like fat girls.

Say! Does Sorley get busy. She slims down fast.

Mom could talk her head off but Joe does not need to say a word. There are two ways of looking at things. There is the ideal way and the practical way.

Sorley is practical. If she has to get rid of her excess fat to get Joe, she will get Joe. When she gets Joe she will get fat again. How come?

Don't Buy Auto Insurance Blind...

Compare ALLSTATE with any other-feature by feature

When you spend your money for anything as important as auto insurance, you owe it to yourself to know just what you are buying. A glance at the digest of the new state auto law, in the panel, will show you that this is now especially true. Without adequate protection, your auto registration certificate and your driver's license may be suspended.

But not if you have adequate Allstate protection. Here is protection that really does a job:

The New State Auto Law in a nutshell
What it means to YOU!

- If you, as a driver or car owner, are involved in an accident causing bodily injury to or death of another, or damage to another's property in excess of $100, your right to drive and your auto registration may be suspended unless:
- You can show that you were covered by adequate bond or adequate liability insurance with limits of at least $5,000 per person, for injury or death and $10,000 per accident, and $1,000 for property damages; OR
- Your car was being driven or parked by another person without your consent, or that it was legally parked; OR
- You deposit security in the form and amount required by the State, up to the above limits; OR
- You can furnish the State with satisfactory evidence that you have been released from liability or finally adjudicated not liable, or have executed a duly acknowledged written agreement providing for installment payments; OR
- Have your insurance company file proof that you were protected at the time of the accident by acceptable and adequate insurance, such as ALLSTATE.

If you can't do at least one of these things, your auto registration and your driver's license will be suspended.

Allstate, organized by Sears, Roebuck and Co., is famous for its fast growth. Allstate specializes only in auto insurance. Allstate Agents are specialists. Allstate rates are low. Allstate is known for its fair fast settlements, without red tape or quibbling. You're treated right.

Allstate pioneered the first pictorial auto insurance policy in history. Clear pictures help show you, in a flash, what protection you can buy. The "4 to 1" and the "Plus Five P.D." plans, both featured by Allstate, offer you liability protection at lower cost. Ask also about the Disappearing Deductible Collision Insurance—another Allstate feature.

So see Allstate without fail. Compare Allstate's low rates. Compare Allstate coverage by coverage—feature by feature—benefit by benefit—with other companies. Find out how little it costs to be fully, safely protected with Allstate. Call on the Allstate Insurance Company Agent at your Sears Store today.

Bequests Made From Estate Of Greenville Woman

Almira Home To Receive $3,000
From Estate Of Mrs.
Jennie Pettit

MERCER, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Fourteen charitable organizations and 34 individuals will receive bequests of nearly $200,000 from the estate of Mrs. Jennie Hull Pettit, who died in Greenville, Pa., December 12.

Among those benefiting from the will are: The Presbyterian Board of Missions, $25,000; Martha Berry School of Mt. Berry, Ga., and Neighborhood House, of Erie, each $5,000; Almira Home for Aged Women, at New Castle, $3,000; Presbyterian Home for Aged, at Cambridge Springs, Pa., and Mercer County Children's Home, each $1,000.

Also included in the bequests was Thiel and Grove City college, each $5,000.

Set Up Exhibits For Farm Show

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Workmen swarmed through the exhibition halls today setting up exhibits for the 34th annual state farm show opening a five-day stand at Harrisburg Monday.

More than a half million spectators are expected to inspect the exhibits in what is conceded to be the largest indoor farm show under one roof in the nation.

Initial shipments of livestock are slated to arrive at railheads adjoining the farm show buildings Thursday morning to supplement the machinery already trundled into the four-acre main exhibition hall.

Most of the so-called "big line" manufacturers will be missing from the 1950 exposition as the result of a wrangle of space charges.

All of the commonwealth's main administrative departments will have exhibits.

Takes Office; Then Resigns Place

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Floyd C. Jones took the oath of office as Armstrong county district attorney yesterday, then resigned because of "the serious condition of his health."

The 45-year-old Kittanning, Pa., man has been a patient at St. Francis hospital in Pittsburgh. He was elected to the Armstrong county post a few weeks before his involvement in a three-car automobile accident in which one woman was killed.

An Elk county coroner's jury ruled last December Jones was "grossly negligent" in the accident. He is free on bail, awaiting trial on charges of manslaughter and drunken driving.

Mayor Lawrence Starts Second Term

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Mayor David L. Lawrence, re-elected members of Pittsburgh city council and one newly elected member were sworn in yesterday for new terms of office.

In his speech, the mayor hinted possible tax increases when he told an audience of Democratic party partisans "the real fiscal troubles may well begin in 1951". Lawrence claimed the 1950 budget is in balance because of a surplus carried over from last year.

Although the United States produced only about 3.5 per cent of the world's supply of rice, this amounted to 22 million barrels in 1948. That's a lot of rice pudding.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Navy disclosed that the Aircraft Carrier Boxer, (above), and two destroyers have been ordered into the Western Pacific to reinforce the 7th Task Fleet. This group will join the heavy cruiser and four destroyers based at the Philippines and the heavy cruiser and four destroyers in Japanese waters which make up the fleet. The re-inforced fleet under Admiral R. S. Burkey is in easy reach of Communist-threatened Formosa.

EMIL JANNINGS DIES

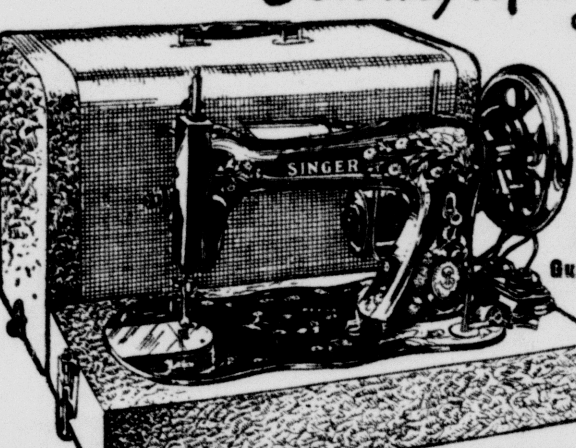

ST. WOLFGANG, Austria, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Emil Jannings, first actor to win Hollywood's academy award, will be buried Friday in the quiet Austrian town of St. Wolfgang.

Jannings, a Brooklyn-born German, died last night at the age of 63, from influenza after an extended bout with a kidney ailment. Jannings received the 1928 academy award for his performance in "The Way of All Flesh" but was driven into retirement by the advent of talking pictures.

Bodies Of Two Men Are Found

Victims Of Plane Crash Missing
Since December 22 Found
At Mt. Pocono

MT. POCONO, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Bodies of two New York state men missing since Dec. 22 on a plane flight from Georgia to New York have been removed from their wrecked craft at nearby Snow Hill.

State police identified the victims as James J. Rogers, Jr., 24 of Schenectady, N. Y., and Colin

Couzens, 37, of Smith Basin, N. Y.

The plane crashed late on the night of Dec. 22 in a heavy fog after being refueled at the Baltimore airport.

Both men were employed by the National Lead Co. at MacClenny, Fla.

They took off in the chartered light plane from Waycross, Ga., for a Christmas visit to their homes.

Wreckage of the ship was found by a Civil Air Patrol plane after a farmer recalled hearing an aircraft in difficulty and then a flash on Dec. 22.

The soybean was once a "sacred" grain of the Chinese.

CLUB ENJOYS DINNER

Assembling Friday night at the home of Mrs. Robert Grinnen on Clyde street, members of the What Nite club enjoyed a delicious tureen dinner.

The table was attractively decorated in a Yuletide motif, with miniature trees for favors and a clever Santa Claus centerpiece.

After dinner a gift exchange was a feature. Five hundred was the pastime. Each member brought a small gift and all of the gifts were placed on a table, at the conclusion of the games the scores were tallied and each player, beginning with the high score first, selected one of the gifts from the table, continuing until all of the gifts were exhausted.

At a late hour the group adjourned to meet in two weeks at the home of Mrs. Raymond Leight.

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 3.—Off the celluloid cuff, Hedy Lamarr says she won't make any more movies for less than $125,000 per... Irene Dunn, who has clipped her locks into a boyish-bob, sings on the screen for the first time in ten years in her next, "Come Share My Love". Andy Devine, who has a big part in the same movie, only weighs 347 pounds now... John Howard is seriously considering abandoning his acting career and concentrating full time on his painting.

Zachary Scott has been eating his meals off the mantle, still hobbling from severe bruises suffered the other day when a giant wave whammed him against a raft at Malibu... June Horne, Jackie Ginter's ex, and Jack Briggs, Ginter Rogers' ditto, think it's spring... Ray Milland is writing a detective novel with a Hollywood background... And Jack Holt, the silent screen hero, has a new kid's book on the market for Christmas, called "Lance and His First Horse".

Match Makers Holler

Swedish match interests have been complaining that Marta Toren has been using cigarette lighters. She'll light her cigarettes in the future with match on the screen... 20th Century-Fox expects "Pinky" to gross $4,000,000 this year, making it one of the season's most profitable pictures... Hollywood Women's Press club is voting for "least cooperative actor and actresses". Nominated for the dubious honor are Hedy Lamarr and Betty Grable, and John Wayne, Frank Sinatra, Humphrey Bogart and Dennis Morgan.

We took a casual poll of 50 Hollywood writers, directors and players and these are the pictures they think will be nominated for academy awards: "Battleground", "All the King's Men", "Twelve O'Clock High", "The Heiress", "My Foolish Heart", "The Window", "Sands of Iwo Jima", "Home of the Brave" and, if it is edited in time, "Stromboli".

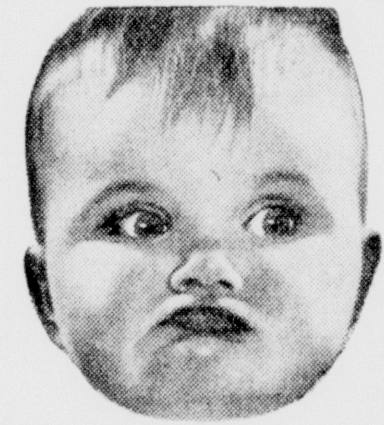

Barbara Bates, old enough to have voted in two presidential elections, is portraying a 14-year-old gal in 20th Century-Fox's "Cheaper By the Dozen". The other day her husband, publisher Cecil Coan, met her after work in a Hollywood shopping district and kissed her.

"And then," Barbara related, "a woman said in a loud voice: 'Isn't that disgusting—a grown man and such a child. He ought to be arrested!'"

Plan Convention At West Side Church

Annual missionary convention of the West Washington street Union Mission of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will start on Wednesday evening, January 5, and continue through January 8. Speakers for the convention include: Miss Ruth Lindstrom of West China; Rev. Walter Pister of French West Africa and Rev. Hugh P. Young, home worker and Bible teacher.

The convention party will also conduct services in the other Alliance churches in the area following the close of the West Side meetings. They will move to Hoover Heights on January 8, then to the Sampson street work and the Castlewood church before going to other districts.

Raymond Borowski Enlists In Navy

Raymond Joseph Borowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Borowski of Hanna street, has enlisted as a naval aviation cadet in the U. S. navy.

A graduate of the New Castle high school, Borowski attended the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh. He has been ordered to the naval air training center at Pensacola, Fla., for duty.

MORAVIA

The Primary classes of the Moravia Presbyterian Sunday school presented their Christmas program at the church on Wednesday afternoon with about 25 children present with their parents. After the program, which was in charge of the teachers, Mrs. Marie Tindall, Mrs. Dorothy Anderson and Mrs. Adolf Werner, a gift was presented to each child from their teacher.

and also a treat from the Sunday school. A delicious lunch was served by the teachers. The church was decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season.

ELIMINATE WASTE IN POULTRY PROGRAM

When prices are high, egg and poultry producers can stand high cash loss, but when prices come down cash costs must be lowered accordingly.

Better use of labor helps cut those costs. Feed costs represent 50 to 60 per cent of total costs. Better equipment and management combat wasteful methods of feeding.

Waste can be eliminated by: Ample hoppers from which poultry cannot waste feed; filling hoppers not more than two-thirds full; keeping rats and mice out of feed; good feeding practices which keep layers in good body weight, keep up vitamin intake to prevent deficiencies, and provide rapid growth.

Other ways to avoid waste are better care of equipment and keeping mortality low. To keep mortality low use pollorum clean chicks, brood only chicks of one age in a house at one time, avoid overcrowding poultry in houses, provide adequate brooder house heat and ventilation, reduce coccidiosis hazards by brooding more chicks in cold weather.

WINTER CARE NEEDED FOR FARM ENGINES

With machinery going into winter storage, engines on the baler, combine, and harrow need special attention. Water-cooling systems must be drained and the petcocks left open to take care of possible condensation drainage.

Engines in storage need a tablespoon of cylinder oil through each spark plug hole, and the engine turned over a few times to distribute the oil over the cylinder walls. Seal breather and exhaust openings with a plug or wad of cloth to prevent air exchange and too much condensation inside the engine. Complete the regular lubrication schedule before storage.

Water-weighted tractor tires need anti-freeze to prevent damage in winter. Calcium chloride may be used. The amount for each size of tire can be learned at any service station.

Engines which have occasional use during the winter are best protected with anti-freeze in the cooling system, instead of draining and filling each time.

APPLES COST LIFE

"AMERICA'S SECURITY IS YOUR SECURITY — BUY AND HOLD U. S. SAVINGS BONDS"

No wonder they're calling them

"TOP CHOICE FOR 'FIFTY"

They're greater in power—higher in compression—a standout in styling—dreams to drive—and now there's a Buick beauty for 1950 to fit practically any budget

No, we just couldn't hold back the whole big Buick line for 1950.

They're too good-looking—too much fun to drive—too jam-packed with stepped-up, higher-compression, ready-to-ramble power—to be kept under cover.

So maybe you've already seen some 1950 Buicks on the highway.

Maybe you've noticed the extra "git up and travel" they have—glanced the wide, curving windshields (one piece in most models)—noted, approvingly, that the typical Buick taper is now found in all Buick fenders.

Maybe you've even heard some things...

That there are more than a dozen-and-a-half models to choose from. That there are three power plants in the Buick line—all of higher compression, all stepped up in power.

That all models are big and roomy inside—some rear seats are better than a foot wider than before!—yet in every instance, shorter over-all, so easier to handle, park and garage.

Above all, maybe you've heard of exciting news on price...

That Dynaflo Drive, for instance—standard on ROADMASTER models, optional on all others—now costs 20% less than on 1949 models.

That in the full line—SPECIAL, SUPER and ROADMASTER series—there is a Buick to fit practically every budget above the very lowest!

Pictured above is the 1950 SUPER 4-door Sedan, one of the new Buick body types for 1950. At your Buick dealer's are more actual models, the whole story on others.

Hadn't you better see him—right now—and see if you, too, don't find Buick "top choice for 1950"?

LOTS OF LUGGAGE SPACE, plus a high-fashion rear-end treatment, graces the Buick fourback Sedan models for 1950. This is the ROADMASTER, and above is the SUPER version of this much-wanted 4-door, 6-passenger Sedan.

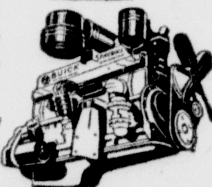

Tune in HENRY J. TAYLOR, ABC Network, every Monday evening.

POWER NEWS WITH A REAL PUNCH!

Here's just one part of Buick's three-way power story for 1950—the brand-new F-263 valve-in-head straight-eight. Packing a wallop that makes the SUPER a stand-out performer of the season, here is still higher compression and still greater power in no greater over-all size. You'll get this new engine on all SUPER models, in 124 hp with Synchro-Mesh transmission, 128 hp with Dynaflo Drive.*

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SUPER and SPECIAL models.

Features like these mean BUICK'S THE BUY

HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines, five hp ratings. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.)

'Truman Program' Will Again Be Presented

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—President Truman will ask Congress Wednesday to enact the "Truman program" in its entirety and will strongly re-annunciate the nation's anti-Communist foreign policy.

The chief executive also will outline his tax program in general terms when he delivers his "State of the Union" message to a joint session of Congress, but he will make his specific proposals on fiscal policies in later messages.

The president may incorporate his tax recommendations in his economic message, which is expected to go to Congress Friday, and he may send a special message on taxes to Capitol Hill. No "surprises" are expected in the message.

This light was shed on the president's State of the Union message after the president held a full-dress review of the message with members of the cabinet and other top advisers.

The cabinet meeting was one of the longest on record and in the Truman administration. It lasted two hours and 20 minutes.

The president will begin his State of the Union address to Congress at 1 p. m. (EST), Wednesday. The message probably will be about 5,000 words in length.

The message is expected to contain a renewed request for enactment of every phase of Mr. Truman's original 21-point legislative program which has not yet been enacted into law.

This includes repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and enactment of some form of civil rights legislation.

It will contain a strong foreign policy statement concerning this nation's attitude toward aggression against any nation in any part of the world.

In his foreign policy pronouncement, the president will deal with the United States attitude in broad terms. He is not expected to refer specifically to any present situation such as the Far East crisis or the Communist threat against Yugoslavia.

Further Aid To Be Given In State Brucellosis Program

State Will Provide Vaccine And Free Serum For Vaccination Of Calves

Under the provisions of the state brucellosis program, Lawrence county farmers will receive further assistance in the control of brucellosis, commonly known as Bang's Disease, it was stated today by county Agent L. C. Dayton.

Heretofore, farmers have had to pay for the vaccination of calves to control this disease, which is a serious one among cattle, and also communicated by humans from contaminated milk, to a lesser degree.

Lawrence county is now a modified certified area, the last test conducted by the state showing less than one per cent of cattle over six months of age being affected.

In order to further reduce the percentage, the state is undertaking to provide free vaccination for heifer calves between the ages of six and eight months, with vaccine supplied by the state.

Animals that are so vaccinated in tested herds, which later show positive reaction, can be disposed of and the owner will receive indemnity from the state.

Migrant Workers Are Being Helped

Aiding Migrant In Our Country, One Of Projects Of World Day Of Prayer

Helping the migrant worker in the United States is one of the projects being sponsored by the World Day of Prayer. It is estimated that two and a half million Americans of various racial and national origins live by working in crops around the country, moving usually in family groups. Migrant labor is used at least in 40 of the 48 states of our country.

The Home Missions Council aids migrants in 23 states. Plans are being made for several other states. The "Harvester" program, that began in 1946, has been one of the Home Mission Council's most successful projects. The four now (six) Harvesters are station wagons equipped with portable altars and organs, movie equipment, record player, baseball bats and gloves, Bibles and religious literature. Each one travels about 6,000 miles a month to outlying camps to take recreation and religion to the migrants.

Raising sugar-beets, cotton and most all small fruits and vegetables on a large scale requires a large number of migrants at certain season. Housing migrants varies from good, meaning one or two rooms for a family, to box-car, abandoned chicken houses and ditch-bank shelters. As federal farm labor camps and clinics were liquidated by January, 1948, their rents have been increased as much as 200 per cent. Clinics and child-care centers are closed. Migrants are not eligible for social security.

World Day of Prayer will be conducted in First Methodist church, New Castle, Friday, February 24, with the United Council of Church Women as sponsor.

Youth Forum Has Regular Session

Book Review Of "Cry, The Beloved Country" Is Enjoyed At Previous Meeting

On a recent evening the Youth Forum held its monthly meeting at the Y. W. C. A. and the National Health Insurance program was discussed.

Jean Derr and Pete Rosenberger presented the affirmative and negative arguments. A vigorous discussion ensued.

Miss Helen Westlake reviewed the current best-seller, "Cry, the Beloved Country," by Alan Paton, at the November session. Her apt and unique presentation was greatly enjoyed.

James Cavill, president of the New Castle Chapter of World Federalists, will review the stirring novel, "The World Must Be Governed," by Vernon Nash, on January 25. Student Federalists will be guests at this time.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HABIT

Flipping switches is The Great American Habit. Even children have it. And it's a habit that has given America the world's highest standard of living.

In the home, electricity is just about the smallest item in the budget, but what else makes life so easy, so healthy, so comfortable?

In industry, electricity lends the employee the strength of giants. Electric motors multiply his muscular strength by dozens or even by thousands — making it possible for him to produce more, better, faster — to earn more.

Electricity is certainly a vital part of our American life yet, oddly, this country spends only 2% of its vast income for electric service. Such a bargain in efficiency didn't happen by accident, of course. Business-managed electric light and power companies pioneered the electric industry — progressed and expanded because of investors with faith and vision, employees with skill and experience.

There are still broad fields of electric living yet to be tapped. Business men can do the job better than bureaucrats. That's always been the secret of America's progress.

Court House

Divorce Ratio Drops In 1949

One Divorce In Eight Marriages During Year—One
In Five In 1946

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

It may be that folks are getting more selective in choosing mates.
Or it may be the post-war flurry of divorces is calming down.

Whatever it is, the ratio of divorce to marriage has dropped in Lawrence county. In 1949 there were 140 divorces granted as against 1,137 marriage licenses granted, a ratio of about one in eight.

In 1946 there were 329 divorces granted in this county as against 1,670 marriage licenses. In 1947 there were 1,533 marriage licenses and 188 divorces. In 1948, 1,289 marriage licenses and 190 divorces.

This year the number of marriage licenses dropped along with the divorces but the ratio shows an improvement.

During the year the Prothonotary and Clerk of Court's office completed 54 adoptions as again
50 in 1948, 46 in 1947, and 42 in 1946.

INSTRUMENTS FILED

During 1949 there were 5,312 instruments of all kinds filed in the office of the Register and Recorder. This is a slight drop from 1948 when 6,052 were filed.

Among the instruments recorded were deeds, mortgages, commissions, leases and rights of way.

COMMITMENTS FOR 1949

Out of the gasoline tax refunds paid the county, the county commissioners have committed $135,- 000 for 1950. The commitments are as follows:

For reduction of bonded indebtedness, highway bonds of 1922, $33,000. Interest, $3,015. Damages on Route 422, in Slippery Rock and Shenango townships, $45,000. Aid on route 350, in Ellipton and Wayne township, $6,000. And on Route 37013, Wayne and Shenango townships, $5,000. Aid on the bridge across the Neshannock creek in New Castle, $37,500. Discretionary grant to Slippery Rock township road supervisors, $2,000.

None of this money comes out of the general fund. All of it comes from the one-half cent per gallon refund the county gets each year from the state.

Noted Journalist At Woman's Club

Emilie Jacobson, Linguist
And Journalist, Entertains
Woman's Club
Monday

PORTRAYS HUMOR OF VARIOUS COUNTRIES

Meeting of the Woman's club on Monday afternoon in the Highland church will long be remembered as a red letter day in the history of the club.

Due to illness, Count Byron de Provok was unable to fill his engagement. But the members started the new year off with laughter as they sat spellbound by the brilliant and charming speaker and journalist, Emilie Jacobson. Her subject was "Humor—First Aid to understanding", an original, significant and heart-warming suggestion that the road to peace may be made smoother by knowing what makes "the other man" laugh.

For those who have not yet heard this brilliant woman of such rare wit, it is difficult to classify her, though she herself delights in the title given her by the New York City Rotary club, and that is "The Little Lady With the Big Personality".

Great Ability
The Woman's club was more than pleased with Mrs. Jacobson, the ladies were delighted. Humor of various countries of Europe was portrayed in an eloquent and entertaining manner, and it would take many superlatives to describe her platform manner and command of the English language.

She swept her audience right with her, and all seemed to forget their troubles of the past and present. The laughter and hearty applause were definite proof of how thoroughly she was enjoyed by the club.

Miss Jean Boalick entertained the group by playing the lovely "Reverie", by Debussy, at the piano.

A short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. C. R. Brenner. Mrs. Clarence Davis was named program chairman for the new club year. Mrs. T. J. Kelly, Mrs. John Elliott and Mrs. Martin Hornung were named on the budget committee for the afternoon were Mrs. Howard Erwin, Mrs. Owen Fox, Mrs. Charles Gardner and Mrs. R. M. Garland.

The next meeting of the club will be held on February 6.

America's clay wall and floor tile industry, which produced over 105,000,000 square feet of tile in 1948, was started only 72 years ago.

Mrs. John F. Love Presents Students

Mrs. John F. Love entertained a group of her students in a piano recital and holiday party in the assembly room of First United Presbyterian church. The room was colorful with seasonal decorations.

The following pianists presented the program: Louise and Betty Zehner, Shirley McGuire, Nancy Lou and Bill McGuire, Betty Jane Kyle, Jean Beahm, Norma Davidson, Dick Buttemore, Nancy Leible, Kathleen and Rita Mae DePolo and Joyce Webb. Others who took part follow: Gretchen Figley, Tom and Gave Laurel, Linda Maslinik, David Lehto, Lydia Lipiano, Paula Allison, Elizabeth Temple, Kathleen Douglas, Nancy Kiminkinen, and Mary Lou Ryhal. Aileen Richardson and Melinda Sue Bishop, pupils of Paula Allison, also participated.

Nancy Kiminkinen and Norma Davidson directed games. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Love with Jean Beahm and Paula Allison as aides.

New Beaver Falls Mayor Fires His Former Bosses

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Edward (Ted) Corcoran has been mayor of Beaver Falls for one day and already he has been dubbed "sudden."

His first act yesterday was to fire his former bosses, the chief of police and the assistant chief. Chief R. A. Gorrell and Assistant Chief Joseph Muolo have served about 20 years on the force.

Corcoran, a former patrolman who ran on the Democratic party ticket and defeated Republican Mayor Charles Medley, appointed William Feeney acting chief of police and William Davidson to assistant chief. He indicated further changes would be made in the department.

Kennedy Favors 5 Per Cent Refund

City Controller Charles A. Kennedy today said he favors a rebate of five percent for cash in payment of city bills.

"The city is a big corporation. It buys a lot of material. Why isn't it possible for the city to receive a rebate of 5 percent for cash?" he asked.

Kennedy pointed out he built a home, and saved considerable by paying cash.

He said that in his opinion business should be done with firms which will give a rebate for cash.

Seventh Ward St. Margaret Council Has Installation

Council No. 74 Has Installation Of
New Officers; National Officers Present

At St. Margaret's hall on Sunday evening, members of St. Margaret's Council No. 74, had a New Year's party and installation of new officers, Nick Perrotta, president, in charge, with a very large attendance.

The installation ceremony was performed by national president, Charles G. Notari, national corresponding secretary, Frank DeNino, national financial secretary, Thomas Sasso, and acting national commissioner, Dr. Frank Ferrente, all of Pittsburgh.

After the ceremony, President Perrotta called for addresses by national officers. Mr. Notari spoke on "Christopher Columbus and Organizations of Italian groups"; Mr. DeNino, "Boosting the treasury fund since convention in 1948, and of coming convention in 1951, honoring birthday of Christopher Columbus"; Brief talks were made by Mr. Sasso, Dr. Ferrente, and inter-state commissioner Nick Canger of local council.

Bouquets of flowers and gifts were presented to President Nick Perrotta by maintenance of way employees of Penna. R. R., which he is supervisor. Basket of flowers to Mr. and Mrs. Tony Quarto. Mrs. Nick Perrotta received a beautiful corsage from the M. of W. employees.

A tasty lunch and refreshments were served by the committee: kitchen, Mrs. Rose Zarilla, chair-lady; Mrs. Margaret Masters, Mrs. Marian Lombardo, Mrs. Rose DiDario, Mrs. Anna Masters, Mrs. Rose Santo, and Mrs. Cecelia Perrotta. Table and refreshments, John DiThomas, Tony Santo, Joe Frigione, Frank Marchionda, Domenick DeMarco, Charles Masters, Philip Ross, Joe West, Louis Domenick, and Paul DiDario.

President Perrotta thanked the members and officers of Council No. 74, for their splendid cooperation during 1948 and 1949, and hoped for the same continued cooperation.

Main officers installed were: President, Nick Perrotta; vice-president, Eugene Melchior; past president, Bart Lombardo; corresponding secretary (Italian), Angelo Russo; corresponding secretary (English), Andrew Russo; financial secretary, Patsy Monico; trustees, John DiThomas, Joe Pecoraro, Charles Masters, Pete Perrotta, and Philip Ross.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Herbert Bayard Swope, editor of the famous old New York World, is generally considered the all-time champion of the universe, but John Wheeler swears that Hurry-Up Swope, Michigan's immortal football coach, had Swope lashed to the mast. To prove his point, he cites an evening at Grantland Rice's house. Swope made the mistake of clearing his throat. Yost seized the opening and went on talking uninterruptedly for three hours.

By confining his remarks exclusively to football, which is one of the few subjects of which Swope himself admits he knows nothing, Yost kept him completely silent for the unprecedented stretch of two hours and nineteen minutes.

Finally Swope could stand it no longer, and rose to leave, though he usually stayed hours longer. Fate had one further indignity to bestow upon him however.

That very morning, he had purchased a nobby new fedora at a Fifth Avenue haberdashery. As he was twirling it in his hands, glaring at the victorious Mr. Yost, that gentleman had just reached a description of the longest kick he ever had witnessed. "Eckersall grabbed the ball like this," he declared excitedly, and seizing the new Swope chapeau, he neatly booted it into a bowl of whipped cream on the dining room table. Swope rescued it—and believe it or not—stamped out without saying another word.

Each year 12 million pounds of flowers are harvested in southern France to be utilized for perfume.

Shake-Ups Occur In Two Cities In Pittsburgh Area

McKEESPORT, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Quick political action of the drastic sort followed oath taking ceremonies in two Monongahela river towns yesterday, but in the third the status quo was not disturbed.

A Democratic city council in McKeesport turned the police force inside out and in nearby Duquesne a Republican mayor first dismissed the Civil Service Commission, then demoted police and fire captains.

McKeesport's council also appointed a new fire chief and some deputies. After replacing detective bureau personnel, a police chief and several lieutenants. Eighteen municipal employees were fired.

Mayor Frank Koprivier said the full Duquesne Civil Service Commission will be replaced by a new board.

In nearby Clairton appointments were made without a shakeup.

Baby Injured In Fall From Auto

Robert Baxter, aged two and a half years, of R.D. 5, State Road, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 3 p.m. Sunday, with a severe laceration of the forehead, received when he fell from his father's car, on Rural avenue. The child fell from the car as it was going around the sharp curve on Rural avenue. He was admitted for further treatment.

Declares U.S. Will Have To Recognize China Government

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(INS)—A leading House Republican declared today that the United States will have to recognize the communist government in China.

Rep. Eaton, of New Jersey, top-ranking minority member in the House foreign affairs committee, urged, however, that diplomatic recognition be delayed until the Chinese communists "observe the decencies of international relationships."

The former committee chairman said American recognition would not imply approval. He pointed out that we maintain diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union and other communist governments.

Eaton commented: "We have to deal with facts as they are and not as we may want them to be."

Class Of Fifty Has Senior High New Year's Dance

New Castle Senior high school students welcomed in the New Year in a most appropriate manner Saturday night by attending the dance sponsored by the class of 1950 at the Cathedral.

Dancing was the main diversion for the full evening's entertainment attended by more than 375. During the intermission, talented senior high school students presented a most entertaining variety show.

The Class of Lucky Fifty is now preparing to conduct a class song contest and start making other preparations for the big days in June.

Donald Copson is the class supervisor.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"I Wanta Drinka Water!"

One favorite indoor sport for the youngster, at least, seems to be that of calling for all sorts of things after he has gone to bed. Few are the parents who have escaped. "I wanta drinka water!" "I need to go to the bathroom!" "My nose needs blowing!" These are but a few of the clarion calls that may come from Junior's room.

There are several common ways of meeting the situation. Some parents take the requests seriously and are at the child's beck and call. Some ignore him entirely, even though crying may follow when he doesn't get what he wants. And some of us lose our patience and apply a little punishment. It's hard to know just what is the right approach.

It's important to try to understand what it is the youngster is after. He may feel very much alone and use requests largely to keep in touch with the rest of the family. He may have developed slight fears of the dark or of shadows and want reassurance. Naturally, we want him to learn to go to bed without fuss. But it may be that we should go a little easy at first, accede to some of his requests, give him a bit of extra companionship before he goes to bed and gradually help him learn that continued calling is not to be done.

Gentle firmness seems to work if it is coupled with patience. When he is reassured, he can learn to go off to sleep without bothering the family.

Former Wac Held In Fatal Shooting

CARNEGIE, Pa., Jan. 3.—(INS)—A 29-year-old former WAC was held in Carnegie today charged with the fatal shooting of her husband of six months.

Carnegie police identified the dead man as John Howrychak, 35. Sgt. John Garber of the Carnegie police said Mrs. Dorothy Zeigler Howrychak fired one .22-caliber rifle bullet into her husband's body early today.

The shooting occurred in the kitchen of the nearby Robinson township bungalow home of Mrs. Howrychak's father, Ross Zeigler.

25th ANNIVERSARY

25 YEARS OF SERVICE

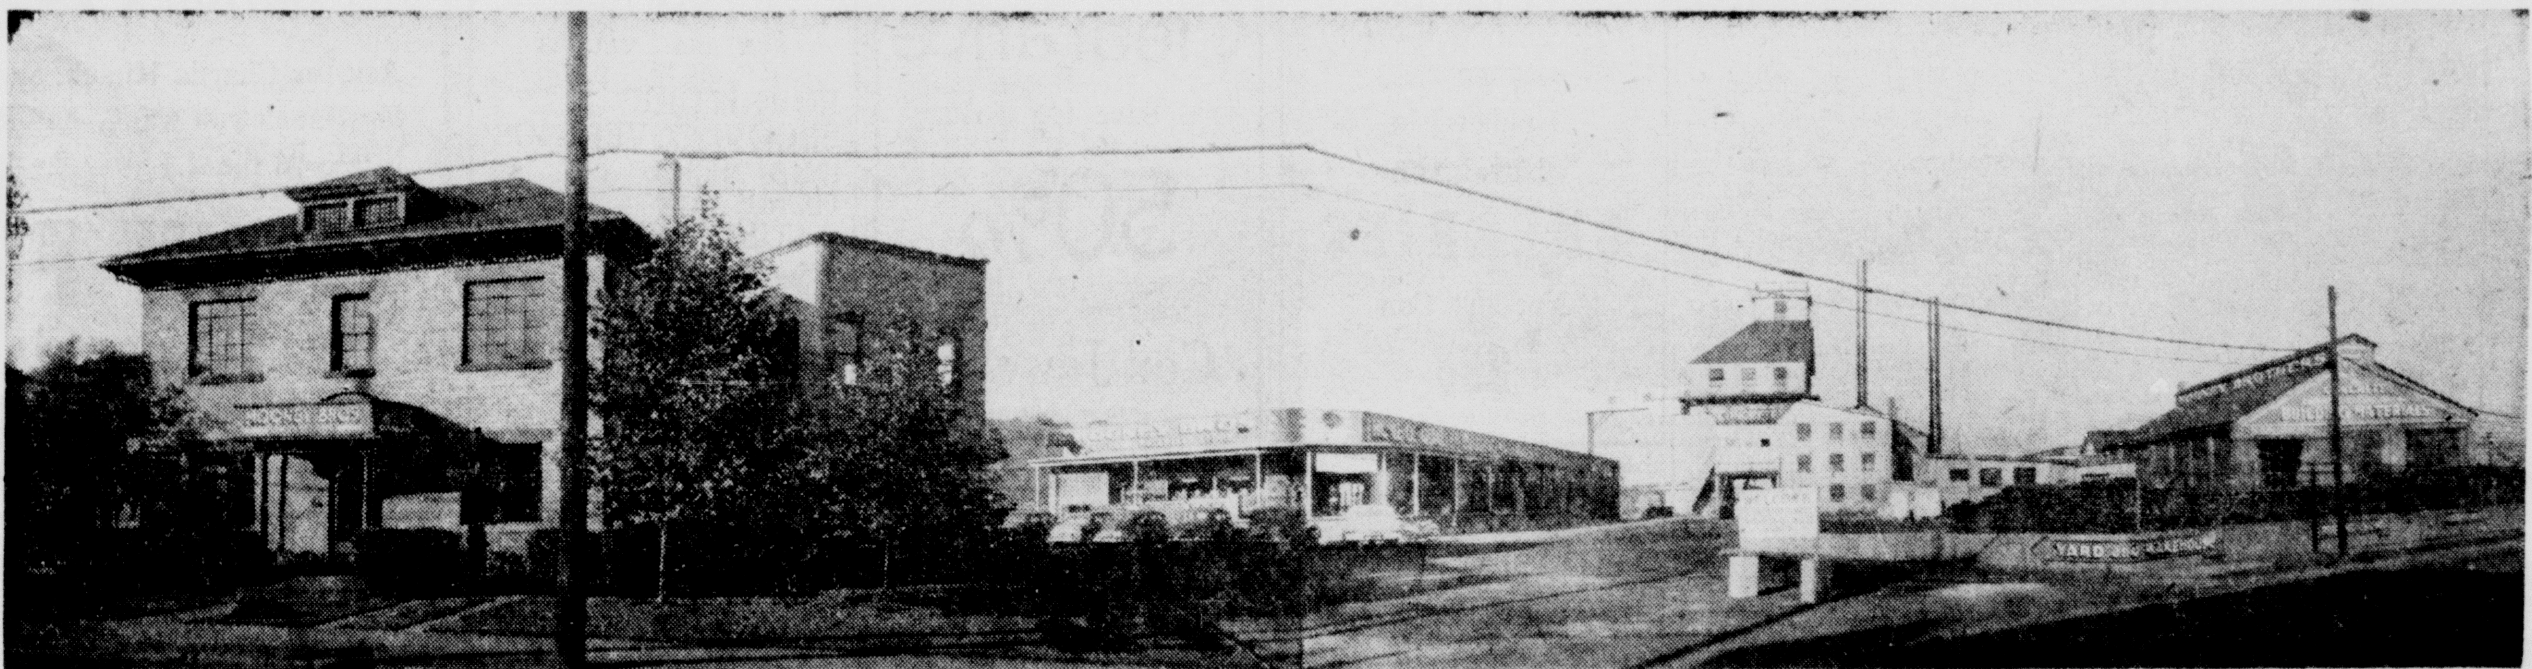

Twenty-five years ago we started business . . . started a trucking business in a modest way . . . started it with little money but a lot of hope . . . and a lot of confidence in New Castle and New Castle people.

As the need appeared, the trucking business was expanded . . . then we saw the need for the production of quality concrete block . . . and we started a small plant . . . this, too, was expanded as the demand for the product grew.

Our hopes have been justified . . . our confidence in New Castle has never waned . . . and we have never knowingly betrayed the confidence of the people in us.

This year we mark our Silver Jubilee . . . 25 years in business in New Castle . . . today we operate a complete trucking service . . . our concrete products plant is the largest in this area . . . producing the highest quality concrete products for all building purposes . . . we have a modern building supply store and warehouse . . . and recently we put into operation a modern sand and gravel washing plant.

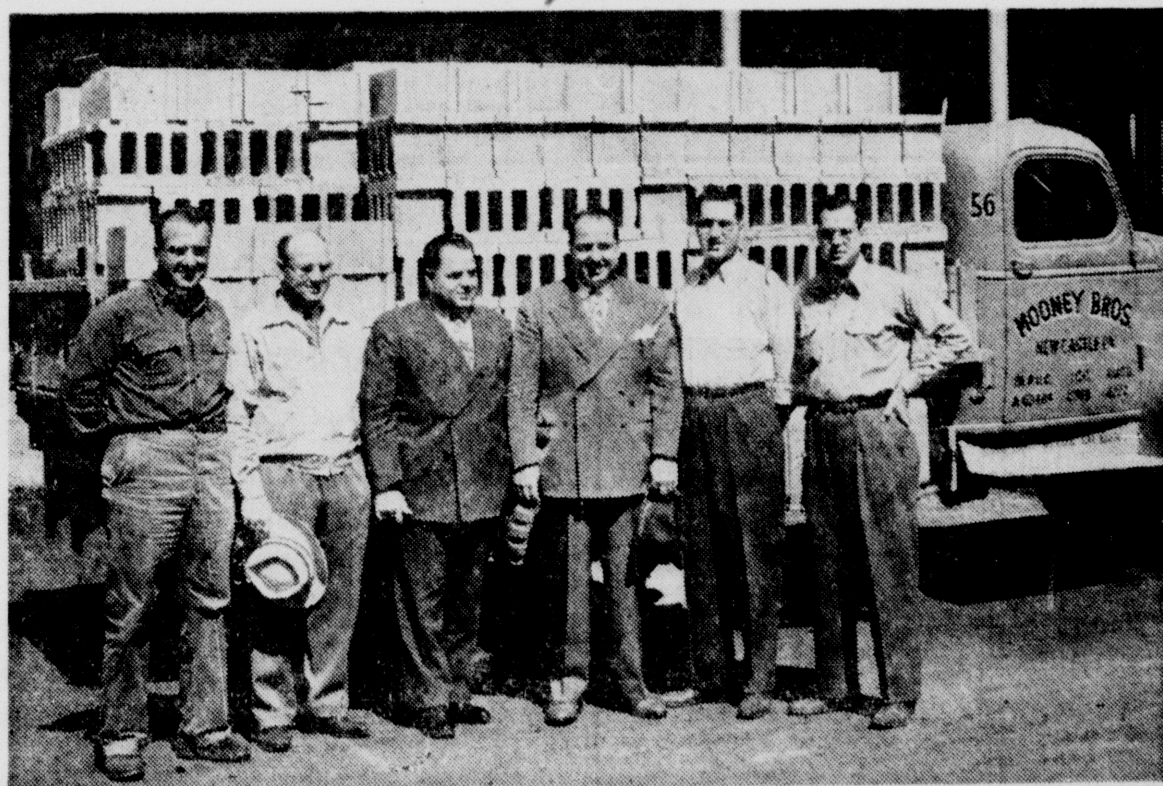

For the confidence and support of the people of New Castle we are grateful . . . we face the next quarter century with confidence, knowing that the people of New Castle and this entire area want quality products . . . and that they respect integrity in business.

Here is shown the Mooney Brothers plant. At the left is the office, then the Building Supply store, a portion of the concrete products plant, and at the extreme right the garage and repair shop. Back of the buildings is the balance of the fourteen acre yard with its rail and yard crane material handling facilities. Because of mass production methods the cost of service and materials to our customers is the lowest available in this area. Note the spacious entrance and parking space for the convenience of our customers.

One for all and all for one is the motto of the Mooney Brothers. Left to right they are Ralph, Paul, Sam, Bill, Louis and Gerald.

Haven said "we do not intend to do any business, other than to organize for the coming two years, this morning. After council organizes, the body will convene until 10 a. m. Tuesday."

"I would like to ask the new councilmen if they have agreed upon what department each desires to head?"

Both Mr. Medure and Mr. Schweinsberg replied: "We haven't discussed it."

The mayor then said the council would go into committee to organize.

Mr. Davis offered a motion naming Mr. Hoyland to head the department of finance and accounts. Mr. Medure offered a second. The vote was unanimous.

Mr. Hoyland offered a motion naming Mr. Davis to head the department of public safety. Mr. Schweinsberg offered a second. The vote was unanimous.

Schweinsberg Heads Streets

Mr. Davis offered a motion naming Mr. Schweinsberg to head the department of streets and public improvements. Mr. Medure offered a second. The vote was four to "Nay."

"Any remarks?" the mayor inquired of Mr. Schweinsberg.

"None," replied Mr. Schweinsberg.

Mr. Davis offered a motion naming Mr. Medure to head the department of parks and property and to also act as purchasing agent. Mr. Hoyland offered a second. The vote was four to "Nay."

Mr. Schweinsberg voting "Nay."

The mayor mechanically becomes head of the department of public affairs.

Mr. Davis offered a motion that Mr. Hoyland report back to council the action taken in committee, which was done, following which Mr. Davis offered a motion concurring in the committee's recommendation.

The city clerk then called the roll of the new council.

At this point, the mayor had his secretary, Mrs. Reimold, read the Third class city law relating to the conduct of officers which gives the mayor the right to prefer charges, and ask for their removal if their conduct is not proper, and by majority vote, their offices may be changed when the public service is to be benefited.

He said that when Mr. Davis assumed office two years ago there was only one vacancy and because seniority ruled, the "hold overs" kept their departments.

Elected To Represent City

"You do not run for a department, but are elected to represent the city," the mayor stated, after which he authorized the city clerk to read the departments to which the councilmen were assigned. The resolution was submitted by Councilman Hoyland. Mr. Schweinsberg voted negatively but it passed, four to one.

The mayor then invited Mr. Medure to speak. Mr. Medure said he desired to thank the people for having elected him. "I intend to discharge my duties for the best interests of the city," he added.

Mr. Schweinsberg was next to address the audience. He said the time for talking has passed and the time for "doing" is here. He thanked his friends and said he faced his new task with humility and will strive his utmost to do what the people elected him for. "I shall be a public servant and serve without animosity, pique or jealousy, and for the best interests of the people."

Mr. Kennedy said he was pleased to see so many people in attendance and said "I hope to do the job for which I was elected."

Promise To Cooperate

The mayor then said: "I offer my services to the incoming councilmen. I promise to cooperate with them and ask for their cooperation."

"I find that by 'working' with the city solicitor, I find it pays. I ask him many legal questions and, I am sure he will be as gracious to the new officials as he has been with me. There are things we could like to do but when the solicitor says it is illegal, we cannot do them."

He introduced Solicitor Robert White who said he has witnessed many officials come and go, and added "I find that when men are elected they serve the public with a sincere devotion to duty."

"I congratulate the council on this new building. It makes it much easier to do business here than in the old building. We appreciate the new building."

"I thank you all for coming here today, and request you to return, and, if you have any problems we will try to work them out."

His assistant, Attorney Robert Jamison, likened council to a basketball team, stating that with teamwork, it becomes a winning team. He said the legal department is not a policy making body and, believes, he said, the new council would be a winning combination."

Following this Mayor Haven wished the 200 a Happy New Year and a prosperous New Year and council adjourned until today.

The second floor of the building was crowded. The council chambers seated about 60. The remainder stood along walls and in the corridors outside the council chambers.

FALL CAUSES INJURY
Mrs. Mary Bryson, aged 63 years, of 310 West North street, was treated at the Jameson Memorial hospital at 4:25 p. m. December 31, for a laceration of the scalp, received when she tripped and fell while crossing the railroad tracks between West Grant and West State streets.

COUNTY BOARD DECIDES ON NUMEROUS SALARIES

Joseph Travers and County Controller Andrew M. Dadds present. Mr. Bush was elected chairman of the board and District Attorney Sherman K. Levine took his place as a member of the board for the purpose of considering his department.

"I have named Mr. Klebe county detective because of his known ability and his background," said Mr. Levine. "He is trained as a lawyer, has had seven years experience with the F.B.I. and I believe is well worth the salary which has been paid the county detective, $3,840 per year. I so move."

"I am against paying any appointed officer more than an elected officer," said Mr. Travers. "I believe Mr. Klebe has the qualifications and is worthy of the salary, so I second Mr. Levine's motion," said Mr. Gilmore. The motion passed with Travers the only one voting no.

Assistant District Attorney
There was little discussion upon the salary to be paid Mr. Powers as assistant district attorney. Mr. Travers objection was voiced prior to Mr. Levine's coming in, Travers insisting there was not enough work for two district attorneys and therefore the elected officer should take care of the work.

The law provides a salary of $2,200 for an assistant district attorney and this was passed.

More argument ensued when the salary of the district attorney's secretary came up. Mr. Levine moved that Miss Jacobs be paid the salary which has prevailed, $150 per month. He explained that Miss Jacobs was competent both in shorthand and typewriting and he expected her to take statements from prisoners which has heretofore been done by court stenographers.

"Against The Minutes"
"We have some minutes on the books which provide for a salary of $130 per month for new clerks," said Mr. Travers. "If we pass this salary we might as well raise everybody else."

"Mr. Levine tells us the new secretary will do some additional work," said Mr. Dadds and for that reason I am for the salary as moved."

"We might as well forget our rules if we do," said Travers. On motion, the salary was set at $150 per month and Mr. Levine withdrew. Register and Recorder Edward McConahy said he had appointed Harry A. Bryan to succeed Miss Josephine Baransky as second deputy and asked the salary be set at $200 per month. He also said he would appoint someone to fill the vacancy caused by the dropping of Miss Elizabeth Heller as a clerk.

All voted in the affirmative except Travers.

More Argument
The setting of the salary of Deputy Sheriff Blanche E. Davy drew some heated remarks between Sheriff Frank L. Coen and County Controller Andrew M. Dadds.

"Miss Davy is coming in as a clerk," said Mr. Dadds and I believe is not entitled to the full salary paid."

"Miss Davy is coming in as a deputy sheriff," said Sheriff Coen and I expect to use her not only in the office in clerical work but also as a deputy when women are arrested or when women have to be taken to institutions. I'll agree this has not been done and there was a reason but in Miss Davy's case this will be done."

"It seems to me she is coming in as a clerk," continued Dadds. "You know her capabilities," said Coen. "Would you say she was not competent?"

"No I would not," said Dadds. "She is capable, but she is coming in as a new clerk."

On the motion all voted in the affirmative except Dadds.

Sheriff's Solicitor
Sheriff Coen then told the salary board he was now entitled to appoint a solicitor and he was appointing Attorney Walter A. Kieler.

"You have been paying for legal service out of your own pocket, have you not?" asked Mr. Bush. "I have," said Sheriff Coen.

Said Travers "The solicitor to the sheriff of Mercer county, a fifth class county, is paid $300 per year. I move the salary be set at $200 per year for this county."

"The sheriff of Mercer county has nothing to do with the jail," said Coen and here he will have to prepare such papers as commissions in lunacy. If you want comparisons I might add that Mercer county pays $1,800 for county solicitor and we pay over $4,000 in such salaries. That is because our county is set up differently and our county solicitors have a great deal of work to do with deeds. I am not suggesting our county solicitors are overpaid, merely showing that they have more work to do than in Mercer, just as the sheriff's solicitor will have more work."

There was no second to Travers' motion.

Coen moved a salary of $600 per year and it passed with Travers voting no and Dadds not voting.

Dealer Will Show New Dodge Locally

J. R. Rick Motor Company Will Feature Display Of Improved Dodge On Wednesday

Styling modifications have made the new Dodge longer and lower in appearance, as visitors to the J. R. Rick Motor company showrooms, 468 East Washington street, will discover Wednesday when the new cars will be displayed for the first time.

The new cars have larger and wider rear fenders, have a two-inch wider rear tread, while front views will reveal a new parallel bar-type grille, of separate piece construction which will tend to minimize repair and replacement cost. Roominess, convenience and riding comfort will win public confidence at first inspection of the different Dodge.

Fluid drive has been added to all models at no extra cost, while Byro-Matic transmission, which frees the driver from shifting, is available in the Coronet series at less cost than competitive automatic transmissions. Six body styles come in the Coronet series, while the Meadowbrook and Wayfarer models are being produced by the company.

All models are smartly styled inside to give riders a pleasant drive and are designed for the passengers' safety in case of emergency. These and added other features may be seen at the Rick Motor company showrooms.

Ralph Shiner Is Injured Monday

Local Insurance Man Suffers Fracture Of Vertebra In Fall In Centennial Building

Ralph B. Shiner, Sr., aged 57 years, of 206 North Walnut street, local insurance agent, suffered a fracture of the side of the fourth lumbar vertebra, when he fell into the elevator shaft at the Centennial Building, Monday evening, shortly after 8 o'clock.

Mr. Shiner had gone to his office to do some work on his books, and opened the door into the elevator shaft, expecting the elevator to be there. Some one had previously taken it to an upper floor, and Mr. Shiner stepped into the elevator shaft, falling heavily to the bottom.

He was removed from the shaft and taken to the hospital, where he was admitted for treatment at 8:45 p. m. It was stated at the hospital today that Mr. Shiner's condition is satisfactory.

FALLS FROM BRIDGE
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Pittsburgh police reported today that an unidentified man fell or leaped into the Allegheny river from the Sixth street bridge and sank after screaming for help.

Dominick DeMarco told police that he was crossing the bridge on the way to work when he heard cries for help. He said he looked over the bridge railing and saw the man sink out of sight.

Survey Shows Need Of New School Buildings

Dr. Frank L. Burton, superintendent of the New Castle public schools, recently recommended to the school board the erection of three new elementary schools.

The recommendation was based upon the condition of the Lincoln-Garfield, Oak Street and North Street schools, all of which have served their day.

Lincoln-Garfield Worst
Of the three buildings, Lincoln-Garfield is undoubtedly in the worst condition. As a matter of public interest, a representative of The News visited the school several days ago to learn at first hand just what condition the school is in.

The survey revealed the soundness of Superintendent Burton's recommendation insofar as this school is concerned.

Lincoln-Garfield is really two schools. The Lincoln school was built in 1880 fronting on Long avenue. The Garfield school was built as the Fifth Ward school in 1890 and later the two were joined by a passage way and a gymnasium.

There is a question which of the two units is the worst, but both are in such shape that repairing them would be a waste of money.

Entering either building, one has the feeling of entering a penal institution of old time design. The halls are narrow, the floors are bad, and there is a generally depressing air about the place as though the building itself were apologizing for being in use.

Floors Rough
The floors of the room in Garfield building are bad, especially the first floor. There is no basement under this building and for many years surface water from the alley east of the building seeped under the building.

As a result the floors sag, they are rough and splinters in hands and feet are common occurrences. The blackboards in the rooms and also in the Lincoln side rooms are worn down to where they are rough and uneven making proper writing upon them impossible.

There are no cloak rooms in the building and the youngsters hang their clothes in the classroom. In the winter and spring the clothes are wet and the result can be imagined when the steam heat goes to work.

Storage rooms and janitors' broom closets are made from spaces under stairways. There is one tiny toilet room for teachers in the entire building and the wash bowl and commode crowd it. It reminds one of the toilet facilities in the old city jail.

Lincoln Side
The Lincoln building is about as bad as the Garfield building. Floors of the classrooms are rough and uneven save in the basement, where the floors have been black-topped.

There might be worst classrooms in the schools of the United States than the basement rooms of the Lincoln building but it would be hard to imagine it. What daylight sneaks in comes from the basement windows, which are high, and electric lights are burned practically all the time. These lights as are the lights in the other rooms of both buildings, are abominable and probably are responsible for a lot of eye strain.

In this building also there is one small toilet room for the teachers, this one being jestingly called a rest room. There is an old cot in there with an army blanket on it, walls that are drab, paint that is peeling and altogether as conducive to rest as the nail bed of an Indian Fakir.

Heating Uneven
Heat for the two buildings is supplied by two old heating units that shriek their age. The heating units are old fashioned ones with the rooms closest to the boiler room being over heated and ones far away sometimes chilly. There are no controls in the rooms save the windows and when the room is overheated a window is opened. The result is that heat that should be going to the farther corners of the building goes out the window and the youngsters in the over-heated rooms are in danger of colds.

A foot-candle meter in the room would probably show the lighting at about 5 to 8 feet. Proper lighting would be four or five times that high, if not more.

The wooden floors are oil soaked and if a fire ever broke out in either building both of them would be a torch in no time.

There is nothing to recommend the Lincoln-Garfield school other than the size of the rooms and the gymnasium-auditorium. The rooms are large, larger than necessary for the most part but when that is said, all the good points have been covered.

This article is written by a layman, one without the qualifications to say whether or not the Lincoln-Garfield building is a breeding place for disease.

The one unit of the school that is useable is the gymnasium-auditorium. This is fairly new, built about 1921, and is in good condition. If a new school building were built on another site, and the old buildings were torn down, the gymnasium could be left as a recreation center for the South Side.

After a survey of the Lincoln-Garfield buildings, from cellar to roof, one is convinced of the dire necessity for a new school building to replace it.

The time is long past due for a new school building.

Ecclesian Club Election Held

At the recent evening meeting of the Ecclesian club, held in the club rooms, South and South Jefferson streets, the annual election of officers took place.

They are: Spiritual director, Rev. Fr. Edwin Hoppel; and officers: President, Ray McAuley (re-elected); vice president, Frank Haas; treasurer, Rocco Viggiano; financial secretary, Joseph Braun; recording secretary, George Metz; marshal, Bert Torchio.

The board of directors include: Louis Bongivengo, Michael King, Clarence Brown, Arthur Mittler, Sam Ross and Alex Sansone.

Installation of officers is slated to be on January 9.

Future activities of the Ecclesian club were discussed and the club's 11th anniversary dinner is scheduled to be held on Sunday evening, February 12.

The pre-lenten Mardigras will be held on Tuesday evening, February 21.

Oak Street Pupils Give Food Baskets

Students of the Oak Street school had gifts for the needy of the community.

Children brought donations of various foods and canned goods, and six bushel baskets were packed for distribution.

Mrs. S. Vanass was chairlady in charge of packing the baskets. She was aided by Mrs. J. Fabian, Mrs. Gail Borst, Mrs. James McKee, Mrs. Bernard Lutz, and Mrs. John Susko. They were assisted by John Cornelius, principal, and John W. Broadbent, custodian of the school.

The baskets were distributed by school nurses, Mrs. John Thompson and Miss Norma Kline. Four were distributed to needy in the community and the remaining two went to the City Rescue Mission for distribution.

Vital Statistics Forms To Change

Forms, which are used by the undertakers and coroner's office in reporting deaths to the Pennsylvania Department of Vital Statistics, changed on January 1, when new forms which have been standardized to conform to those in use in other states, will be put into use.

Supplies of these new forms have been delivered to the undertakers and coroner, and will be placed in use tomorrow.

In addition to the regular forms, which have been used heretofore, a new form comes into use for reporting stillbirths.

The undertakers' forms are white in color, those used by the coroner's office, are yellow; and those for reporting stillbirths, will be blue.

Additional information will have to be supplied on the newer forms, but it is expected that there will be little confusion in changing over to the new type.

New Castle And Farrell Lift Section Thrice Lid Here Tonight

Steelers Reported With Strong Quint

New Castle High basketball team could be called the victim of circumstances today—the schedule makers in Section Three certainly gave them a "toughie" to start with—the powerful Farrell High Steelers.

Tonight at the Washington High gym, the Canes and Steelers pry off the 1950 section lid and it will be a test for the locals. Farrell comes here with a record of seven straight wins in pre-league play over such teams as: Ford City 29-19, Warren Harding 38-31, Franklin 50-26, Har-Brack 32-23, Youngstown South 50-36, New Kensington 52-28, and Erie Strong Vincent 45-36.

Farrell Eyes Title
Coach Eddie McCuskey in his second year has developed a great combination, one that is being touted as potential champions in the section. Paced by Joey Delise, Julius McCoy and Marion Lampkins the Farrell team has ridden roughshod over all opposition.

Farrell annually has a tough team to beat and this year seems to be even stronger. Farrell's only concern tonight will be the small New Castle floor and the high-scoring Don Reed.

New Castle 5 and 3
New Castle has played one more game than Farrell, eight—winning five and losing three—the Gig Thomas coached machine lost to Duquesne 59-39, Youngstown East 68-58, and Ford City 46-41. Victories were won over Ursuline 32-24, Meadville 48-46, New Brighton 27-48, Vandergrift 48-43, and South Union 41-35.

Coach Thomas said today that he will probably start the combination that faced South Union last Friday, with Dick Lewis and John Sansone at the forwards, Don Reed at center, and Ray Latsko and Chuck McDewitt at the guards.

Young Don Leiberger is back in the good graces scholastically and will be available, for service tonight. Don is the smallest man on the squad but a good shot.

Ambridge At Sharon
Other Section Three games on the card for tonight will be Ambridge at Sharon, and Beaver Falls at Aliquippa. Ellwood will be idle in the section.

Considerable interest will be manifested in the result at Sharon, where the Tigers with a strong team await the Bridgers, who are reported to be a very "hot" team this year. A lot hinges on the outcomes tonight.

The prelin game here starts at 7 o'clock with the junior varsity teams of both schools participating. The New Castle Jayvees are undefeated in seven straight games.

Injured Fighter Remains Critical

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Carmine Vingo, young heavyweight boxer seriously injured in a Madison Square Garden bout last Friday, remained in critical condition today, although his physician said he is improving.

Vingo, 20-year-old New Yorker, suffered a brain concussion when knocked out in the sixth round by Rocky Marciano of Brockton, Mass. Dr. Vincent Nardiello, Garden boxing physician, said Vingo was recovering use of his left arm but that his leg still is paralyzed as a result of the injury.

First Place Ties In Junior Church

Results of last week's play in the junior church basketball league resulted in ties for first place in both leagues.

A. Z. A. defeated S. S. Alliance last Thursday, 34 to 24, to cause the first place split in the "A" circuit. Larry Halmes and Phil Greenberg were outstanding for the winners.

In last Saturday's play Second U. P. took a 33-25 win from First Presby to cause a three-way tie for first place in the "A" league. First Baptist downed First Christian, 38 to 24. Croton came through with a 32 to 25 win over Central Presby.

Saturday's play in the "AA" loop had S. S. Alliance in a 46 to 24 victory over Third U. P. Jim Phillips and Lee Pears accounted for 30 points between them for the winners. First Methodist beat St. George 12 to 10. A. Z. A. walked over Epworth 33 to 20.

Eddie Erdelatz May Coach Navy

Invite Former Naval Academy End Coach For Contract Talk, Now With 49'ers

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 3.—(INS)—Eddie Erdelatz can have the naval academy football coaching job if he wants it.

Capt. Howard Caldwell, academy athletic director, so indicated today when he announced that Erdelatz is the "first and only man" so far considered for the vacancy created by George Sauer's resignation.

Erdelatz, presently on the San Francisco 49ers payroll as an assistant coach, has been invited to Annapolis to talk things over and is due tomorrow.

Former Navy Coach
Prior to signing on with the pro team, Erdelatz was a naval academy end coach.

He starred for St. Mary's in the mid-30's, when the Galloping Gaels of Moraga, Calif., were at their gridiron zenith.

Caldwell said he had talked with Erdelatz by telephone and that he believed a satisfactory coaching contract could be worked out.

Sauer, whose four-year contract had two years to go, resigned last week in protest against the decision of the Academy Athletic Association to drop two of his assistants, Bob Ingalls and Vic Bradford.

Ohio State Victors In Thrilling Rose Bowl Classic 17-14

PASADENA, CALIF.—Referee signals exuberantly as Curly Morrison of Ohio State crosses California goal line for first Buckeye touchdown, during third quarter of 1950 Rose Bowl game. Buckeyes moved ahead in the final two minutes to beat the California Bears 17-14.

By JOHN BARRINGTON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

Some football stars are made, not born. And those who develop slowly and through hard work sometimes gleam all the more brightly because of the heartbreaks they meet along the way.

Take Jimmy Hogue, for instance. They said he'd never be much of an end at Ohio State because he couldn't catch a pass.

"But, gosh, he's so willing," Coach Wes Fesler used to say.

Jimmy was used mostly on defense as a sophomore and was handicapped by a broken hand as a junior. But along the line he learned to place kick the ball through a needle's eye.

His five straight placements brought Ohio a 35-to-34 victory over Missouri in the 1949 opener. Another conversion gave the Bucks a 7-to-7 tie with Michigan and a share of the Big Ten title.

And yesterday it was Jimmy Hogue's 18-yard field goal with less than two minutes to go that meant a 17-to-14 victory over California in the Rose Bowl.

A crowd of 100,963 persons saw that 36th annual Pasadena classic, and, in a way, they saw history repeat itself.

For the second year in a row a California team, undefeated during the regular season, bowed to a Big Ten representative with less than three minutes to go.

Day Of Upsets
Last year, a Northwestern touchdown thwarted the Bears. This time, the magic of Hogue's toe kept alive the Western Conference string of four straight wins since it went into Rose Bowl partnership with the Pacific Coast Conference.

That was only one upset in a day in which the experts couldn't seem to guess right.

Santa Clara Wins
At Miami, Fla., an Orange Bowl crowd of 64,816 saw Santa Clara's underdog one-planet Bronco burst from behind to trample Kentucky, 21 to 13.

The Bronco trailed 7 to 0, at halftime, but there was no holding them after the intermission.

Likewise, Maryland upended favored Missouri, 20 to 7, in Jacksonville, Fla.'s "Gator Bowl." That wasn't supposed to happen, but it did with the aid of fumbles and pass interceptions and the Terrapins' own indomitable spirit.

Rice-Oklahoma Win
The odds-makers proved overly conservative in two other major bowls. At Dallas, 75,347 Cotton Bowl fans saw Rice trounce North Carolina, 27 to 13. The game wasn't even as close as it sounds, for the tarheels didn't score at all until the last quarter.

And Oklahoma ran its winning streak to 22 games by beating Louisiana State, 35 to 0, in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans. An attendance of 83,000 was treated to an offensive display that netted the most lopsided game in Sugar Bowl history.

St. Vincent's Victors
Another team that hadn't lost for two seasons didn't fare as well as the Sooners. In the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Fla., Wofford college of Spartanburg, S. C., fell before Florida State, 19 to 6.

Another unbeaten record went by the boards when St. Vincent's of Latrobe, Pa., edged Emory and Henry, 7 to 6, in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla. Something was bound to give there, for St. Vincent's also was undefeated.

In other games, Texas Western drubbed Georgetown, 33 to 20, in the Sun Bowl; McMurry downed Missouri Valley, 19 to 13, in the Oleander Bowl; Prairie View college rudely blasted Fisk, 27 to 6.

ELLWOOD PLAYS
Ellwood City winds up its pre-league exhibition schedule tonight when it plays a rematch with Beaver at Beaver.

In the first game of the two game series at Ellwood City, the Wolverines came out on top by a 33-30 score.

This is the windup game of the exhibition schedule for both teams. Ellwood opens its Section 3 season Friday at Farrell and Beaver goes against Freedom in Section 9 Friday.

Floor Officials Meet Wednesday
Members of the Lawrence County Basketball Officials Association will meet at the Y at 7.30 o'clock Wednesday evening for a business session and to elect officers for the new year. It was announced today by William Wallace.

Thirteen associations—and possibly 15—will conduct Grand Circuit harness racing meets for a period of at least 19 weeks during 1950.

GENERATING SYSTEM

by LEECE-NEVILLE

Consisting of Alternator (in place of generator), rectifier and voltage regulator, this amazing power plant delivers 60 amperes from 12 to 15 miles per hour to top car speed. Even with car stopped, engine idling—you get 25 to 35 amperes!

Keeps a sound battery fully charged indefinitely, permits addition of accessories without overloading. Just the thing for cars with 2-way radio or the new radio-telephones. Come in and see it!

We carry a complete line of generators, voltage regulators, switches and cranking motors of the famous Leece-Neville quality. See us, too, for expert service!

Section 23 Opens Schedule Tonight

New Wilmington At Union, East Brook At Bessemer, Shenango At Mt Jackson

Section 23 of the WPIAL pulls up the curtain on the 1950 league season tonight with three games on the card.

New Wilmington will travel to Union, East Brook to Bessemer, and Shenango to Mt. Jackson for the openers.

Union entertains New Wilmington in a game that could easily go either way, according to pre-season records. Both teams defeated West Middlesex twice without much trouble and have met no other common opponents.

Bessemer Improves
A week ago East Brook would have been a top heavy favorite to win over Bessemer, but the Cementers decided to quit fooling around last Friday and beat a good Freedom team, bringing their section 23 stock up about 75 percent.

The Shenango-Mt. Jackson game, just like the other two, is a toss up. Both teams split two games with Evans City, their only common foe in pre-league action.

Wampum will entertain New Brighton in a non-league game.

K. Pulaskis Battle Irwin Five Tonight

Will Meet Mt. Jackson Indies Wednesday Night At K.P. Hall, Carr Announces

The K. Pulaski "Big Five" will resume their play again tonight after being idle through the holiday period meeting the strong Sandel's "Big Five" from Irwin, Penna., at the K. P. hall at 8:15 p. m.

The Pulaskis will be striving for their sixth win in succession, copying their last five games by lopsided scores.

The rejuvenated Gonet coached machine will be a hard nut to conquer from here on in.

The Irwin "Big Five" is composed of former Irwin High stars. The Irwin San Del's have compiled a record of 10 wins and one loss so far this season and are recognized as a tough team when they play on the road. They also maintain a six game winning streak.

Card Mt. Jackson
There will not be a preliminary game tonight. The Pulaskis will meet their strongest test on Wednesday when they will take on the highly touted "Mt. Jackson Indies" at the K. P. hall at 8:15 p. m.

This will be the first local team that the Big Five will face this season. The "Big Five" has so far met all out of town opposition.

DUKES TOP RUTGERS
PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Rutgers fought Duquesne on near even terms last night but didn't have enough to prevent the Dukes from winning their eighth straight game, 59-54, at The Gardens in Pittsburgh. Bill Hatchett, Rutgers forward, topped the scorers with 14 points.

LIU-New York Win In Garden

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—St. John's college of Brooklyn, its record of victories bloated to 12 games, will do or die before a sell-out Madison Square Garden audience tonight against City College of New York.

CCNY, with an 8-and-2 record, may give the Indians a argument than a long list of invaders, including Kentucky and San Francisco universities.

Manhattan meets George Washington in the other half of the twin bill.

A doubleheader crowd of only 10,000 last night saw Long Island defeat Muhlenberg, 39 to 58, and New York university drub Dartmouth, 87 to 39.

SHAMROCKS TO MEET
The East Side Shamrocks will have a meeting at the Y tonight at 8 o'clock. All members are asked to be present. Plans will be discussed for a party.

A schedule of play for January is as follows:

Jan. 4, Jones-Monaco at East Brook; Jan. 7, Universals at East Brook; Jan. 11, Mt. Jackson Indies at East Brook; Jan. 14, New Brighton Legion at East Brook; Jan. 18, Bessemer Legion at Bessemer; Jan. 21, New Kensington Falcons at East Brook; Jan. 25, Morellas at East Brook; Jan. 28, Shenango Y. at East Brook.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

DR. WILLIAM BRADY, Chicago medical expert, says that football should be outlawed from high school athletics. A story by Ken Opstein, I. N. S. sports scribe quotes the medical doctor as saying: "Football is a grown man's game, a game for university men, or for those who have attained adult development. It is far out of line for boys in their teens. Some parents seem to think the risk of physical injury is the chief reason why growing children should not play football. If that were so, I'd withdraw my objection. Fractures, sprains, and dislocations are comparatively insignificant incidents—every real boy is subject to them, whether he plays football or not." He said a growing boy in high school, under make-believe training, competes in football at a grave risk to his well-being for years to come. He added that the manifestations of strained heart, soldier's heart, effort syndrome and neurocirculatory asthenia are familiar to every doctor and explained that a youth who has attained adult development (not merely size) may possibly make a quick recovery after a severe strain of the heart. College or university players seldom suffer permanent heart damage. The doctor believes that heart damage often is the reason why a boy performs brilliantly for one season, and then falls into a slump. He said that few parents had the courage to stop their boy from playing football, however, when the coach and other boys and girls in school want "Johnny" on the team.

First wrestling exhibition of 1950 will be held here January 20, and one of the main exhibitions may be Don Eagle, who recently threw Fred Von Schacht in The Arena. Death recently claimed two great athletes. One was Dr. Jack Lovelock, Olympic mile winner in 1936, and Charley Brickley, Harvard drop-kicker. Lovelock was ground to death by the wheels of a Brooklyn subway train. Brickley died in New York of a heart attack. Lee Sala is in line for some lucrative fights in New York as the result of his ninth round knockout of rugged Reuben Jones. When Joe Alexander managed Mickie Solomon, Sala's manager, Bunny Buntach managed Buck McFierman. Solomon and Buck stage some interesting fights. Antlers that may establish a Pennsylvania record graced the head of a deer that was killed in December on the Susquehanna Ordnance Depot ground, near Williamsport. The buck, which weighed 150 pounds, carried an immense set of antlers measuring 34 3/4 inches of spread and sporting 24 points. Al Prouty, 15 years old, shot the animal.

Stan Rojek Wants To Remain With Pirates In 1950

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Pirate Shortstop Stan Rojek wants it known that he "likes Pittsburgh, the fans, the Pirates and Manager Bill Meyer." And he wants to play with Pittsburgh next season.

"I'm just anxious," Stan said in Pittsburgh, "to show everybody I'm every bit as good a shortstop as I was in 1948. I was afraid they were going to make a deal for me and that would have been hard to take."

Rojek finished the '49 season with a .246 batting mark. He never seemed to regain his batting poise after being beamed in the first month of the season by Cardinal Pitcher Ken Johnson. He batted .290 in 1948.

"Speaking for myself," Rojek continued, "and I know the other fellows feel the same way, I realize I have a debt to repay the local Pirate fans in 1950."

Rojek was employed temporarily in Pittsburgh during the pre-Christmas season. He spent October and November delivering milk for A. J. Rojek and Sons in North Tonawanda, N. Y.

There's still a pretty solid possibility the Buc shortstop may be traded before the season opens next April. He finished third among the shortstops in fielding this last season and helped set a Pittsburgh record for doubleplays in leading the National League with 173.

Mikan Leads NBA Scoring

(By International News Service)
George Mikan of the Minneapolis Lakers leads his nearest opponent, Alex Groza of Indianapolis in the battle for individual scoring honors in the National Basketball Association by 97 points. Mikan has scored 860 points thus far. The tall center also leads the Indianapolis star in field goals, foul shots, and per game average. Groza, in turn, is 225 point ahead of Joe Fulks of Philadelphia.

Packers Win
Groza, however, has the best percentage on shots from the floor, averaging 45.9. The former Kentucky great also holds the individual game high of 43 points, scored against Rochester on Nov. 22.

Big Mikan also leads the loop in committing the most personal fouls, 148 in 31 games.

In the only NBA game last night, the Anderson Packers drubbed the Baltimore Bullets, 92-75, to end a three game losing streak.

Two newcomers—Maryland University and Northwestern—are listed on Navy's nine-game football schedule for 1950.

LITTLE CHANGE IN MARKET PRICES

Motor Shares Trading Is Feature Of First Month Of New Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(INS)—Heavy profit-taking in motor shares highlighted an irregular stock market as trading got under way in the new year today.

Chrysler sold off 7/8 to 66 3/4; General Motors was down 3/4 at 70 1/2; and Studebaker was off 3/8 at 27 1/4.

JACK H. FRITZ, City Clerk, said, advancing a point, while Commercial Solvents scored an early rise of 3/4 to 21 1/2.

Coal-carrying rail stocks were higher in a mixed carrier list on the belief that some break in the coal situation might develop before long. Chesapeake and Ohio gained 3/8 to 28 1/2 and Norfolk and Western went up 1/4 to 50.

Value for the first hour totaled 300,000 shares as compared with 370,000 in the same period on Saturday.

The bond market held generally steady with selected rails continuing to improve.
